Resetting expectations for '24

WBD 4Q performance reflects the challenging environment as the business continues to be impacted by the secular headwinds in the linear business, a challenging advertising market and the various strikes. The combination of these factors continue to impair near-term visibility and as a result the company did not provide CY24 guidance. We believe this will lead to downward revisions, which is what drove the strong negative share price reaction (down 10%). However, longer term we continue to believe WBD retains best in class assets which should position the business to resume growth in '25 and beyond.

Near-term visibility limited but longer-term drivers remain

We continue to believe there are several potential drivers that could improve the fundamentals of WBD's business including: 1) a recovery in the ad-market, 2) stabilization of cord-cutting in linear, 3) a return of TV productions back toward pre-strike levels, 4) increasing licensing of their deep valuable library, 5) an improving film slate 6) an acceleration in Max driven in part by various international launches and 7) continued growth in the gaming business. Given the lack of near-term visibility, we are taking a more measured approach in our projections across these various factors for now but continue to view any of these drivers as potential avenues for future growth.

Lower our 1Q and CY24E estimates

We lower 1Q rev to $9.75bn (from $10.12bn) and adj. EBITDA to $2.2bn (from $2.5bn). We reduce our CY24E EBITDA to $9.88bn (from $10.75bn) to reflect the choppy (albeit improving) advertising market and weaker Studios performance. We maintain our CY24E FCF estimate of $4.9bn which reflects a conversion ratio of 50%.

Reiterate Buy but lower our PO to $14

We reiterate our Buy rating, but lower our PO to $14 (from $17) based on an EV/EBITDA multiple of 7x (unchanged) on our reduced CY24E estimates. We continue to believe WBD has a compelling assortment of assets and view the current valuation of ~5x CY24E EV/EBITDA as undemanding. Upcoming catalysts include: 1) a potential advertising recovery and 2) Max rollout in Latam in late 1Q and most of Europe in 2Q/3Q prior to the Summer Olympics in Paris.

Company Sector

Entertainment

Company Description

WBD is a leading global media company. Its portfolio includes highly complementary assets, including best-in-class film and TV studios (Warner Bros.) in addition to other entertainment assets such as HBO/HBO Max, CNN, Turner Sports, TNT, and a deep library (e.g., Cartoon Network, DC Comics) as well as key networks such as Discovery Channel, Food Network, Eurosport (International network), and TLC.

Investment Rationale

We view the risk/reward of WBD favorably as we believe it:

(1) will have a leading DTC offering with the depth and breadth in content and asset mix to provide a broad appeal to consumers globally, (2) has the scale to invest in original content to compete with media and FAANG peers, (3) potentially will be able to realize cost synergy upside from the company's current target, and (4) has significant potential revenue synergies from increased scale (i.e., advertising, distribution, etc.).

BofA GLOBAL RESEARCH

Price objective basis & risk

Warner Bros. Discovery (WBD)

Our price objective of $14 is based on 7x our consolidated CY24E pro forma EV/EBITDA multiple, in line with peers historical multiples due to a similar growth profile.

Downside risks to our price objective are greater than expected merger integration issues, including management turnover, an inability to scale DTC assets with a deceleration in subscriber growth and increase in churn due to a rise in streaming competition from well-capitalized media and tech companies, advertising market declines, a downturn in ratings at its key networks, and an acceleration in Pay TV subscriber declines.

Buy	1895	53.62%	Buy	1083	57.15%
Hold	832	23.54%	Hold	454	54.57%

For purposes of this Investment Rating Distribution, the coverage universe includes only stocks. A stock rated Neutral is included as a Hold, and a stock rated Underperform is included as a Sell.

FUNDAMENTAL EQUITY OPINION KEY: Opinions include a Volatility Risk Rating, an Investment Rating and an Income Rating. VOLATILITY RISK RATINGS, indicators of potential price fluctuation, are: A - Low, B - Medium and C - High. INVESTMENT RATINGS reflect the analyst's assessment of both a stock's absolute total return potential as well as its attractiveness for investment relative to other stocks within its Coverage Cluster (defined below). Our investment ratings are: 1 - Buy stocks are expected to have a total return of at least 10% and are the most attractive stocks in the coverage cluster; 2 - Neutral stocks are expected to remain flat or increase in value and are less attractive than Buy rated stocks and 3 - Underperform stocks are the least attractive stocks in a coverage cluster. An investment rating of 6 (No Rating) indicates that a stock is no longer trading on the basis of fundamentals. Analysts assign investment ratings considering, among other things, the 0-12 month total return expectation for a stock and the firm's guidelines for ratings dispersions (shown in the table below). The current price objective for a stock should be referenced to better understand the total return expectation at any given time. The price objective reflects the analyst's view of the potential price appreciation (depreciation).

Investment rating	Total return expectation (within 12-month period of date of initial rating)	Ratings dispersion guidelines for coverage cluster ^{R2}
Buy	≥ 10%	≤ 70%
Neutral	≥ 0%	≤ 30%
Underperform	N/A	≥ 20%

^{R2} Ratings dispersions may vary from time to time where BofA Global Research believes it better reflects the investment prospects of stocks in a Coverage Cluster.

INCOME RATINGS, indicators of potential cash dividends, are: 7 - same/higher (dividend considered to be secure), 8 - same/lower (dividend not considered to be secure) and 9 - pays no cash dividend. Coverage Cluster is comprised of stocks covered by a single analyst or two or more analysts sharing a common industry, sector, region or other classification(s). A stock's coverage cluster is included in the most recent BofA Global Research report referencing the stock.

BoFA ESGMeter Methodology:

ESGMeter is a proprietary metric based on quantitative analysis and fundamental analyst inputs that reflects our assessment of a company's Environmental, Social and Governance-related attributes. The ESGMeter is intended to indicate a company's likelihood of experiencing stronger financial stability (higher return on equity and lower earnings and price volatility) over the next three years relative to peer group. There are three ESGMeter levels - Low, Medium, and High - which indicate whether a company has attributes most likely to translate into superior financial stability (in the case of a High level) or weaker financial stability (in the case of a Low level) over the next three years relative to its peer group. A Medium level suggests that a company exhibits ESG characteristics that are likely associated with financial stability results in line with its peer group over the next three years. Full details of our methodology, financial stability definition and disclaimers are available at BoFA ESGMeter methodology. ESGMeter is not indicative of a company's future stock price performance and is not an investment recommendation or rating. ESGMeter is independent of the BoFA Global Research fundamental equity analyst's investment rating, volatility risk rating, income rating or price objective for that company.
