

PVH Corp

Margin expansion story intact; Reiterate Buy

Reiterate Rating: BUY | PO: 135.00 USD | Price: 117.25 USD

Attractive risk/reward despite recent run

We reiterate our Buy rating; we think continued execution on expanding margins in a tepid growth environment will help improve the narrative on normalized earnings if sales can return to +HSD algo. PVH trades at 6.6x EV/EBITDA (9.5x P/E), a 9%/42% discount to the stock's 5yr avg. We think 3Q was a step in the right direction, particularly in N.A., with the company returning to low teens EBIT margins in the region despite only modest sales growth. We are increasing our PO to $135 (prev. $114), or 8x EV/EBITDA (prev. 7x) to reflect the rerating in market multiples.

We see upside to F24E margins (vs Street)

Our F24E EPS of $12.36 is 5% ahead of consensus and implies 18% EPS growth. Our forecast includes 2% sales growth (excluding the Heritage sale impact) and 130bp of operating margin expansion to 11.3%, the latter higher than consensus expectations for 10.7% operating margin. We think expectations are high given the recent rally and acknowledge any incremental concerns on Europe slowing (more than what was implied during 3Q earnings) could curtail the optimism around the stock.

Bull case: The path to 15% margins is real

The bull case revolves around the company making tangible progress in F24 toward the 15% operating margin target by F25 despite a significantly lower sales outlook relative to the original target set in '22 for TH/CK sales to reach $11.8bn by F25 (we forecast $9.3bn). The good news is consensus is modeling 11.2% margins by F25E (compared to 10% in F23E), although we think investor expectations are higher given the stock's recent move. Execution over the next few quarters will be key to keep the bull case credible, in addition to signs that European macro is holding up better than expected.

Bear case: Europe demand slows, promos persist

The key bear case revolves around an incremental slowdown in Europe, which represents roughly half of PVH sales and a higher percentage of company profits. In 3Q, the company alluded to a more cautious outlook on wholesale into 2024 and remained more optimistic on DTC. If the promotional environment lingers in 2024 and demand slows, it will be harder to have visibility on the margin turnaround. Our base case forecast includes 15.1% EBIT margins in PVH's int'l business. A reversion to low teens (13%) in this segment, holding sales constant, would lead to a 14% hit to our F24E EPS.

FUNDAMENTAL EQUITY OPINION KEY: Opinions include a Volatility Risk Rating, an Investment Rating and an Income Rating. VOLATILITY RISK RATINGS, indicators of potential price fluctuation, are: A - Low, B - Medium and C - High. INVESTMENT RATINGS reflect the analyst's assessment of both a stock's absolute total return potential as well as its attractiveness for investment relative to other stocks within its Coverage Cluster (defined below). Our investment ratings are: 1 - Buy stocks are expected to have a total return of at least 10% and are the most attractive stocks in the coverage cluster; 2 - Neutral stocks are expected to remain flat or increase in value and are less attractive than Buy rated stocks and 3 - Underperform stocks are the least attractive stocks in a coverage cluster. An investment rating of 6 (No Rating) indicates that a stock is no longer trading on the basis of fundamentals. Analysts assign investment ratings considering, among other things, the 0-12 month total return expectation for a stock and the firm's guidelines for ratings dispersions (shown in the table below). The current price objective for a stock should be referenced to better understand the total return expectation at any given time. The price objective reflects the analyst's view of the potential price appreciation (depreciation).

Investment rating	Total return expectation (within 12-month period of date of initial rating)	Ratings dispersion guidelines for coverage cluster ^{R2}
Buy	≥ 10%	≤ 70%
Neutral	≥ 0%	≤ 30%
Underperform	N/A	≥ 20%

^{R2} Ratings dispersions may vary from time to time where BofA Global Research believes it better reflects the investment prospects of stocks in a Coverage Cluster.

INCOME RATINGS, indicators of potential cash dividends, are: 7 - same/higher (dividend considered to be secure), 8 - same/lower (dividend not considered to be secure) and 9 - pays no cash dividend. Coverage Cluster is comprised of stocks covered by a single analyst or two or more analysts sharing a common industry, sector, region or other classification(s). A stock's coverage cluster is included in the most recent BofA Global Research report referencing the stock.

BofA ESGMeter Methodology:

ESGMeter is a proprietary metric based on quantitative analysis and fundamental analyst inputs that reflects our assessment of a company's Environmental, Social and Governance-related attributes. The ESGMeter is intended to indicate a company's likelihood of experiencing stronger financial stability (higher return on equity and lower earnings and price volatility) over the next three years relative to peer group. There are three ESGMeter levels - Low, Medium, and High - which indicate whether a company has attributes most likely to translate into superior financial stability (in the case of a High level) or weaker financial stability (in the case of a Low level) over the next three years relative to its peer group. A Medium level suggests that a company exhibits ESG characteristics that are likely associated with financial stability results in line with its peer group over the next three years. Full details of our methodology, financial stability definition and disclaimers are available at BofA ESGMeter methodology. ESGMeter is not indicative of a company's future stock price performance and is not an investment recommendation or rating. ESGMeter is independent of the BofA Global Research fundamental equity analyst's investment rating, volatility risk rating, income rating or price objective for that company.
