

Analog Devices Inc.

Q1 first take: almost there, autos resilient

Maintain Rating: BUY | PO: 225.00 USD | Price: 189.40 USD

Q2E implies -36% peak-trough correction

Modest Q1 beat, big Q2 outlook miss as expected. Per ADI customer inventory normalization should largely subside in FQ2 (AprilQ) somewhat more optimistic than uncertain signals around CQ1 or CQ2 bottom left by peers. Autos grew in Q1, and will be a topic of the call. Overall Q1 slightly above Street (sales of $2.513bn 1% above our estimates, -7.5% QoQ/-22.7% YoY) although over a 14-week Q, and Q2 guide-down (to $2.1bn, -16.4% QoQ/-35.6% YoY) representing Street miss of 11% (yet 9% above our more conservative estimate of $1.9bn) as inventory digestion continues to impact 1H24E. AprQ guide represents a 36% peak-to-trough sales decline (or -31% if one were to remove ~500bps impact of extra week in JanQ), 1) better than peer MCHP (-42% peak-to-trough) despite similar 65% trough-peak sales surge, but somewhat better in down cycle since ADI perhaps did not employ similar take or pay arrangements; but 2) worse than TXN at -31%, although logical given TXN's relatively shallower trough-to-peak growth of +62%. AprQ operating margin guided down to 37% from 42% in JanQ, likely limiting EPS upside through CY24E. ADI performed at the mid-range of peers with CY23 sales down 8% YoY, better than TXN down 13% YoY but weaker than MCHP up 6% YoY, while ADI's industrial sales down 8% YoY outperformed NXPI/TXN down 13% YoY each. Maintain Buy and $225 ahead of earnings call at 10am this morning (02/21).

Headwinds focused on industrial, broad-based in AprQ

1) Industrial (-11.6% QoQ/-31.0% YoY JanQ) reflecting weak global PMI and industrial inventory correction, 2) Comms (-11.1% QoQ/-37.1% YoY JanQ) weak capex outlook in 5G, but with 3) Autos the only positive growth segment, +1.1% QoQ/+7.0% YoY in JanQ despite market concerns around EV demand deceleration ending CY23. Mgmt also guided Q2 profit margins down, OpM of 37% (miss of ~357bps), leading EPS to miss estimates by 20% at $1.26/sh. We believe this guide-down was largely anticipated given widespread weakness in diversified landscape expected through 2H24E, yet continue to believe ADI is well-positioned to benefit from secular auto/industrial tailwinds that can drive high-single digit growth and impressive cash generation (mid-30s FCF margin) l-t.

Also keep eye on fab utilization, gross margins

ADI's inventory days stayed relatively steady (though elevated) around 187 days in FQ1, but absolute inventory $ declined $89mn QoQ and down $156mn from peak levels a few quarters ago. We expect management to hold internal utilization at current levels due to long-lived nature of products. Meanwhile GM are down 500bps to 69% in FQ1 from the peak of 74%. We expect FQ2 implied GM around 68%, likely the trough for this cycle.

ADI, TXN MCHP trading at similar valuation on trough EPS

We estimate 3 US peers – ADI, MCHP, TXN - with largest industrial exposure are trading at ~38x-40x PE on annualized trough earnings. The key question is path to recovery amidst macro demand uncertainty. Consensus has TXN CQ2 sales growth of 4-5% QoQ, though MCHP sales to be flattish QoQ. Longer-term a key question will be if/when the 3 US peers can meet/exceed recent peak EPS levels attained in CY22.

Price objective basis & risk

Analog Devices Inc. (ADI)

Our $225 PO is based on 37x CY2025E EV/FCF, within its historical 15x-37x range, and justified based on ADI's best in class profitability and differentiated/secular comms exposure.

Downside risks to our price objective: 1) Economic downturn, which could reduce demand for automotive, industrial products, impacting gross margins, especially given recent capital expenditures and higher fixed cost footprint. 2) Inability to realize the planned cost synergies from the Maxim combination. 3) Competition from larger vendors, such as TXN, which have lower-cost production facilities.

FUNDAMENTAL EQUITY OPINION KEY: Opinions include a Volatility Risk Rating, an Investment Rating and an Income Rating. VOLATILITY RISK RATINGS, indicators of potential price fluctuation, are: A - Low, B - Medium and C - High. INVESTMENT RATINGS reflect the analyst's assessment of both a stock's absolute total return potential as well as its attractiveness for investment relative to other stocks within its Coverage Cluster (defined below). Our investment ratings are: 1 - Buy stocks are expected to have a total return of at least 10% and are the most attractive stocks in the coverage cluster; 2 - Neutral stocks are expected to remain flat or increase in value and are less attractive than Buy rated stocks and 3 - Underperform stocks are the least attractive stocks in a coverage cluster. An investment rating of 6 (No Rating) indicates that a stock is no longer trading on the basis of fundamentals. Analysts assign investment ratings considering, among other things, the 0-12 month total return expectation for a stock and the firm's guidelines for ratings dispersions (shown in the table below). The current price objective for a stock should be referenced to better understand the total return expectation at any given time. The price objective reflects the analyst's view of the potential price appreciation (depreciation).

Investment rating	Total return expectation (within 12-month period of date of initial rating)	Ratings dispersion guidelines for coverage cluster ^{R2}
Buy	≥ 10%	≤ 70%
Neutral	≥ 0%	≤ 30%
Underperform	N/A	≥ 20%

^{R2} Ratings dispersions may vary from time to time where BofA Global Research believes it better reflects the investment prospects of stocks in a Coverage Cluster.

INCOME RATINGS, indicators of potential cash dividends, are: 7 - same/higher (dividend considered to be secure), 8 - same/lower (dividend not considered to be secure) and 9 - pays no cash dividend. Coverage Cluster is comprised of stocks covered by a single analyst or two or more analysts sharing a common industry, sector, region or other classification(s). A stock's coverage cluster is included in the most recent BofA Global Research report referencing the stock.

BofA ESGMeter Methodology:

ESGMeter is a proprietary metric based on quantitative analysis and fundamental analyst inputs that reflects our assessment of a company's Environmental, Social and Governance-related attributes. The ESGMeter is intended to indicate a company's likelihood of experiencing stronger financial stability (higher return on equity and lower earnings and price volatility) over the next three years relative to peer group. There are three ESGMeter levels - Low, Medium, and High - which indicate whether a company has attributes most likely to translate into superior financial stability (in the case of a High level) or weaker financial stability (in the case of a Low level) over the next three years relative to its peer group. A Medium level suggests that a company exhibits ESG characteristics that are likely associated with financial stability results in line with its peer group over the next three years. Full details of our methodology, financial stability definition and disclaimers are available at BofA ESGMeter methodology. ESGMeter is not indicative of a company's future stock price performance and is not an investment recommendation or rating. ESGMeter is independent of the BofA Global Research fundamental equity analyst's investment rating, volatility risk rating, income rating or price objective for that company.
