

Commercial Metals

Q1'24 EBITDA beat; Q2 seasonally weaker, H2 outlook positive; Maintain Buy

Maintain Rating: BUY | PO: 55.00 USD | Price: 48.29 USD

Q1 beat on higher NA steel volumes, EU energy rebates

Commercial Metals' (CMC) fiscal year (FY) Q1'24 adjusted (core) EBITDA was above consensus and BofAe. The beat vs BofAe was mainly due to better-than-expected North America (NA) steel product shipments and Europe energy rebates. Free cash flow (FCF) generation was also better than expected mainly on lower capex. For fiscal year (FY) Q2'24 CMC expects NA steel product margins to compress quarter-over-quarter (QoQ), but downstream margins to remain stable (near record levels). Europe adjusted EBITDA excluding energy rebates to improve QoQ. Emerging Businesses Group to witness typical seasonality. Looking ahead, CMC expects NA steel product margins to inflect/improve (on recent price hikes) and demand to be robust supported by increased infrastructure investments. European segment to see continued improvement driven by supply-side adjustments and increase in construction activity. This supports our full year FY 2024 positive outlook for CMC. Also, per ARTBA, US transportation contract awards to increase 14% YoY in 2024, with many projects under the Infrastructure Investment and Jobs Act (IIJA) entering construction phase. Further, CMC should also benefit from the ramp-up of the Arizona 2 (AZ2) project. We maintain our Buy rating.

Q1'24 Core EBITDA above consensus; FCF better

CMC reported adjusted (core) EBITDA of $325 million (m), above Bloomberg/Visible Alpha (VA) consensus at $312m/$309m and BofAe at $307m. The core EBITDA of $325m, excludes $12m of AZ2 start-up costs. NA Steel Group adjusted EBITDA was $267m. NA steel product shipments were higher than expected (+6% vs BofAe) and margin largely in-line (-1% vs BofAe). Downstream volumes were slightly below (-4% vs BofAe), but pricing was largely in-line (-1% vs BofAe). Europe Steel Group adjusted EBITDA was $39m. While EU shipments (-4% vs BofAe) and margins (-3% vs BofAe) were lower than expected, operating costs were likely better. Also, the energy rebates were also higher at $66m (vs. BofAe $60m). Emerging Businesses Group EBITDA was $31m, with demand conditions relatively solid in NA and weaker in EU/Middle East. FCF generation was better at $261m (vs. BofAe $47m) due to lower capex and working capital. Net Debt as of November 30, 2023, decreased 20% QoQ to $450m (BofAe $560m). CMC repurchased $28m of shares during the quarter.

Q2'24 NA steel product margins lower, downstream stable

Management expects steel product margins in NA Steel Group segment to compress QoQ, but recent price hikes to support an inflection/improvement going forwards. Downstream product margins to be stable QoQ (though backlogs are lower YoY, construction pipeline remains strong). In Europe while market conditions could continue to remain challenging, CMC expects improvement in EBITDA (excluding energy rebates). Management expects Emerging Businesses Group to follow a typical seasonal pattern.

Price objective basis & risk

Commercial Metals (CMC)

Our $55 per share price objective for Commercial Metals (CMC) is based on a blended 6.0x FY24E EV/EBITDA, 5.5x FY25E EV/EBITDA and 1.0x our NAV. The 6.0x 2023E EV/EBITDA target multiple is in-line its historical trading average. The 6.0x multiple is below the sector average multiple of 6.7x and the target multiples used for mini-mill peers (6.5-7.0x for STLD/NUE) given its lack of product / end-market diversification. This is partly offset by CMC's leverage to infrastructure demand, which is set to see strong growth from significant increase in federal spending (management forecasts around 1.5mn ton per annum of incremental demand against a 9-10mn U.S. rebar market).

Upside risks to our price objective are: 1) better-than-expected construction / reshoring demand, 2) higher steel pricing, 3) better-than-expected pricing power in global long products that support pricing and limit imports, 4) additional trade relief, 5) cash deployment for organic or inorganic growth.

Downside risks to our price objective are: 1) sluggish demand due to delay in federal funding and/or tightened credit availability for private projects, 2) lower steel pricing, 3) execution risk related to Tensar and new micro-mills, 4) any rollback of trade relief, particularly related to Section 232, 5) threat of lower priced imports and 6) potential medium term oversupply from various new entrants in the domestic rebar market.

FUNDAMENTAL EQUITY OPINION KEY: Opinions include a Volatility Risk Rating, an Investment Rating and an Income Rating. VOLATILITY RISK RATINGS, indicators of potential price fluctuation, are: A - Low, B - Medium and C - High. INVESTMENT RATINGS reflect the analyst's assessment of both a stock's absolute total return potential as well as its attractiveness for investment relative to other stocks within its Coverage Cluster (defined below). Our investment ratings are: 1 - Buy stocks are expected to have a total return of at least 10% and are the most attractive stocks in the coverage cluster; 2 - Neutral stocks are expected to remain flat or increase in value and are less attractive than Buy rated stocks and 3 - Underperform stocks are the least attractive stocks in a coverage cluster. An investment rating of 6 (No Rating) indicates that a stock is no longer trading on the basis of fundamentals. Analysts assign investment ratings considering, among other things, the 0-12 month total return expectation for a stock and the firm's guidelines for ratings dispersions (shown in the table below). The current price objective for a stock should be referenced to better understand the total return expectation at any given time. The price objective reflects the analyst's view of the potential price appreciation (depreciation).

BofA ESGMeter Methodology:

ESGMeter is a proprietary metric based on quantitative analysis and fundamental analyst inputs that reflects our assessment of a company's Environmental, Social and Governance-related attributes. The ESGMeter is intended to indicate a company's likelihood of experiencing stronger financial stability (higher return on equity and lower earnings and price volatility) over the next three years relative to peer group. There are three ESGMeter levels - Low, Medium, and High - which indicate whether a company has attributes most likely to translate into superior financial stability (in the case of a High level) or weaker financial stability (in the case of a Low level) over the next three years relative to its peer group. A Medium level suggests that a company exhibits ESG characteristics that are likely associated with financial stability results in line with its peer group over the next three years. Full details of our methodology, financial stability definition and disclaimers are available at BofA ESGMeter methodology. ESGMeter is not indicative of a company's future stock price performance and is not an investment recommendation or rating. ESGMeter is independent of the BofA Global Research fundamental equity analyst's investment rating, volatility risk rating, income rating or price objective for that company.
