Awaiting 2024 guide – we expect conservative start, upside from deals

Maintain Rating: BUY | PO: 43.00 USD | Price: 34.31 USD

Guide likely conservative; upside from deals

The next catalyst for OPCH is the 2024 guidance as the biggest question remains whether the core business will continue to grow at low double digits. We expect the adj EBITDA guide to incorporate consensus est. of $437m, which we would view as a conservative starting point as historically OPCH has beaten its original guide by 9% on average. Meanwhile, deploying FCF on deals could add 4-8% to EBITDA (deals not included in the guide). Maintain Buy given the attractive low/mid-teens EBITDA growth long-term, while trading at a 10% discount to the historical avg multiple.

2024 consensus EBITDA assumes core growth of +12% y/y

The company historically gave guide with Q4 results in Feb. However, it is possible OPCH decides to guide at JPM in Jan. to give more clarity as the most common question is about the growth in 2024+ given the decelerating growth in 4Q23. The consensus 2023E EBITDA implies +4% y/y in 2024 or +12% adjusting for the $32m procurement benefit expected in 2023. The core growth of +12% appears conservative given the expected +14% growth ex procurement in 2023 despite 300bps of top line headwinds. The +12% growth is in the middle of the LT targeted growth in the low to mid-teens.

OPCH beat initial EBITDA guide every year; 9% on avg

OPCH has been conservative when giving guidance: it beat its initial EBITDA guide by 7% in 2022, 14% in 2021, and 7% in 2020 – for the avg beat of 9% vs initial (Exhibit 1). The current 2023 guide midpoint is 11% above the initial guide or 3% above excluding the $32m procurement benefit expected for the year.

Core EBITDA to grow 7% y/y in Q4

Ex $12-14m procurement benefit, 3Q23 core EBITDA grew 13% y/y. The implied Q4 guide of $106-111m includes $10-12m procurement benefit. Ex the benefit, this implies EBITDA growth of only 4% y/y. However, 4Q23 will have the full impact of the asset sale and 2 therapies going away. Adjusting for the revenue headwinds, the core EBITDA growth would be about +7-8% y/y.

Deals focused on adjacencies close to home infusion

During our Home Care Conf in early Dec, OPCH said that its deal activity will likely focus on the adjacencies to the core home infusion business (more in our report), while noting technology needed in its operations and the data collected at home that would be valuable to drug makers, payers and providers at risk. Adjacencies to home infusion could be specialty pharmacy (oral) and oncology, with the latter highlighted by our home infusion industry speaker as an area of interest from payors (see takes from conference).

Low leverage makes FCF truly free

With leverage at 1.9x, OPCH's $250m+ FCF will go towards deals and share repo (authorization of $500m). OPCH raised its revolver capacity to $400m from $225m.

Price objective basis & risk

Option Care Health (OPCH)

Our price objective of $43 is based on 19.1x our 2024E Adj EBITDA estimate. This multiple is at a premium to the current average multiple for its Home Care peers given the limited Medicare rate risks, lower leverage, and stronger FCF profile. The multiple is at a slight premium to OPCH's/Legacy BIOS's five-year average of 18.8x given the lower leverage and deal optionality.

Risks are worse-than-expected labor and other cost pressures, customer/ competitor concentration, drug pricing pressure, deal integration risks.

<sup>R1</sup> Issuers that were investment banking clients of BofA Securities or one of its affiliates within the past 12 months. For purposes of this Investment Rating Distribution, the coverage universe includes only stocks. A stock rated Neutral is included as a Hold, and a stock rated Underperform is included as a Sell.

FUNDAMENTAL EQUITY OPINION KEY: Opinions include a Volatility Risk Rating, an Investment Rating and an Income Rating. VOLATILITY RISK RATINGS, indicators of potential price fluctuation, are: A - Low, B - Medium and C - High. INVESTMENT RATINGS reflect the analyst's assessment of both a stock's absolute total return potential as well as its attractiveness for investment relative to other stocks within its Coverage Cluster (defined below). Our investment ratings are: 1 - Buy stocks are expected to have a total return of at least 10% and are the most attractive stocks in the coverage cluster; 2 - Neutral stocks are expected to remain flat or increase in value and are less attractive than Buy rated stocks and 3 - Underperform stocks are the least attractive stocks in a coverage cluster. An investment rating of 6 (No Rating) indicates that a stock is no longer trading on the basis of fundamentals. Analysts assign investment ratings considering, among other things, the 0-12 month total return expectation for a stock and the firm's guidelines for ratings dispersions (shown in the table below). The current price objective for a stock should be referenced to better understand the total return expectation at any given time. The price objective reflects the analyst's view of the potential price appreciation (depreciation).

Investment rating	Total return expectation (within 12-month period of date of initial rating)	Ratings dispersion guidelines for coverage cluster <sup>R2</sup>
Buy	≥ 10%	≤ 70%
Neutral	≥ 0%	≤ 30%
Underperform	N/A	≥ 20%

<sup>R2</sup> Ratings dispersions may vary from time to time where BofA Global Research believes it better reflects the investment prospects of stocks in a Coverage Cluster.

INCOME RATINGS, indicators of potential cash dividends, are: 7 - same/higher (dividend considered to be secure), 8 - same/lower (dividend not considered to be secure) and 9 - pays no cash dividend. Coverage Cluster is comprised of stocks covered by a single analyst or two or more analysts sharing a common industry, sector, region or other classification(s). A stock's coverage cluster is included in the most recent BofA Global Research report referencing the stock.

BofA ESGMeter Methodology:

ESGMeter is a proprietary metric based on quantitative analysis and fundamental analyst inputs that reflects our assessment of a company's Environmental, Social and Governance-related attributes. The ESGMeter is intended to indicate a company's likelihood of experiencing stronger financial stability (higher return on equity and lower earnings and price volatility) over the next three years relative to peer group. There are three ESGMeter levels - Low, Medium, and High - which indicate whether a company has attributes most likely to translate into superior financial stability (in the case of a High level) or weaker financial stability (in the case of a Low level) over the next three years relative to its peer group. A Medium level suggests that a company exhibits ESG characteristics that are likely associated with financial stability results in line with its peer group over the next three years. Full details of our methodology, financial stability definition and disclaimers are available at BofA ESGMeter methodology. ESGMeter is not indicative of a company's future stock price performance and is not an investment recommendation or rating. ESGMeter is independent of the BofA Global Research fundamental equity analyst's investment rating, volatility risk rating, income rating or price objective for that company.
