Solid 4Q but '24 outlook mixed; maintain Buy

Maintain Rating: BUY | PO: 13.00 USD | Price: 9.40 USD

Initial signs of stability emerging

Earlier, TIXT reported a solid 4Q, but somewhat mixed initial '24 guide, with revs in-line but margins/EPS below (in part due to changes in reporting standards). While the macro remains soft, TIXT has started to see signs of stability. Starting in 1Q, TIXT will include stock-based compensation (SBC) and changes in business combination-related provisions in non-GAAP EBITDA and EPS, which should be well-received. New CFO starts 3/4/24. We maintain our Buy rating given attractive valuation and competitive positioning within Digital customer experience (CX) and IT services space.

'24 revenue guide is in-line and 2H weighted

TIXT is guiding to F24 revs of $2.79B-$2.85B, or 3-5% y/y growth (no FX) vs. BofAe/Street at 6%/4%. This is consistent with the low-single-digit outlook provided last quarter. Revenue growth and margins are expected to be lower in 1H vs. 2H. This assumes ongoing macro softness and elongated sales cycles in 1H24, with broader improvement in 2H24 (ex. Europe). Management's tone around Generative AI was encouraging, as AI is driving incremental revs (particularly from 2nd largest client Google).

'24 has additional investments

'24 adj. EBITDA is expected to be $623M-$643M or 22.3%-22.6%, below BofAe/Street at 23.4% due to $31M in additional investments in sales and marketing and internal delivery capabilities. The new non-GAAP reporting standard should have a minimal impact to EBITDA, and be a slight headwind to EPS due to tax adjustments/share count (~$0.06). Along with 292M share count and 22-26% tax, '24 adj. EPS is expected to be $0.93-$0.98, representing 7-13% y/y, vs. BofAe/Street at $1.10/$1.08.

Solid 4Q results all-around

4Q reported rev growth of 10% y/y (9% CC) was in-line. Organic growth of 3% (inc. 1% FX tailwind), improved vs. the 1% in 3Q. Revs from TELUS (top client, ~21% of revs) and Google grew 31% and 32%, respectively (vs. 23% and 25% in 3Q). TIXT continues to be impacted by volume reductions from its 3rd largest client (down 31% y/y) and a large global financial institution (now fully lapped). 4Q adj. EBITDA margins of 23.7% were in-line, driving in-line adj. EPS of $0.26. Encouragingly, headcount increased ~3% q/q in 4Q (to 75K+ employees globally).

Company Sector

Computer Services

Company Description

Telus International is a global provider of services related to customer support & customer experience (CX). TI spun off from parent company TELUS in 2021. TI employs nearly 68,000 staff globally in 50+ CX & IT delivery centers in 20 countries and serves approximately clients across tech & gaming, ecommerce & fintech, communications & media, and healthcare, banking & financial services and travel & hospitality verticals. In 2022, TI generated $2.5B in revenues and $607M of adj. EBITDA.

Investment Rationale

We are bullish on TIXT's longer-term growth strategy and competitive positioning within the Digital CX and IT services space, bolstered by the recent WillowTree acquisition (closed 1/3). This is driving TIXT's attractive medium-term organic growth profile (mid-high teens rev growth with 20%+ EBITDA margins).

Price objective basis & risk

Telus International (TIXT / YTIXT)

We calculate our price objective of US$13/C$18 based on a 50/50 blend of 11x multiple C24E P/E and our DCF. Our multiple is in-line with CX outsourcing comps justified in our view given TIXT's higher underlying organic growth profile and diversified business model, balanced by limited near-term visibility and higher vertical concentration (i.e. tech). Our DCF assumes a 15% WACC and 2% terminal growth.

Upside risks to our price objective are 1) better-than-expected organic revenue growth trends, 2) extended period of material margin expansion, 3) significant growth in top clients, 4) lower-than-expected employee attrition rates.

Downside risks to our price objective are 1) loss of large clients that prevent TIXT from achieving its financial growth targets, 2) intensifying competition for Digital talent, 3) wage inflation, 4) limited free float and low trading liquidity, and 5) risks related to M&A.

FUNDAMENTAL EQUITY OPINION KEY: Opinions include a Volatility Risk Rating, an Investment Rating and an Income Rating. VOLATILITY RISK RATINGS, indicators of potential price fluctuation, are: A - Low, B - Medium and C - High. INVESTMENT RATINGS reflect the analyst's assessment of both a stock's absolute total return potential as well as its attractiveness for investment relative to other stocks within its Coverage Cluster (defined below). Our investment ratings are: 1 - Buy stocks are expected to have a total return of at least 10% and are the most attractive stocks in the coverage cluster; 2 - Neutral stocks are expected to remain flat or increase in value and are less attractive than Buy rated stocks and 3 - Underperform stocks are the least attractive stocks in a coverage cluster. An investment rating of 6 (No Rating) indicates that a stock is no longer trading on the basis of fundamentals. Analysts assign investment ratings considering, among other things, the 0-12 month total return expectation for a stock and the firm's guidelines for ratings dispersions (shown in the table below). The current price objective for a stock should be referenced to better understand the total return expectation at any given time. The price objective reflects the analyst's view of the potential price appreciation (depreciation).

Investment rating	Total return expectation (within 12-month period of date of initial rating)	Ratings dispersion guidelines for coverage cluster ^{R2}
Buy	≥ 10%	≤ 70%
Neutral	≥ 0%	≤ 30%
Underperform	N/A	≥ 20%

^{R2}Ratings dispersions may vary from time to time where BofA Global Research believes it better reflects the investment prospects of stocks in a Coverage Cluster.

INCOME RATINGS, indicators of potential cash dividends, are: 7 - same/higher (dividend considered to be secure), 8 - same/lower (dividend not considered to be secure) and 9 - pays no cash dividend. Coverage Cluster is comprised of stocks covered by a single analyst or two or more analysts sharing a common industry, sector, region or other classification(s). A stock's coverage cluster is included in the most recent BofA Global Research report referencing the stock.

BofA ESGMeter Methodology:

ESGMeter is a proprietary metric based on quantitative analysis and fundamental analyst inputs that reflects our assessment of a company's Environmental, Social and Governance-related attributes. The ESGMeter is intended to indicate a company's likelihood of experiencing stronger financial stability (higher return on equity and lower earnings and price volatility) over the next three years relative to peer group. There are three ESGMeter levels - Low, Medium, and High - which indicate whether a company has attributes most likely to translate into superior financial stability (in the case of a High level) or weaker financial stability (in the case of a Low level) over the next three years relative to its peer group. A Medium level suggests that a company exhibits ESG characteristics that are likely associated with financial stability results in line with its peer group over the next three years. Full details of our methodology, financial stability definition and disclaimers are available at BofA ESGMeter methodology. ESGMeter is not indicative of a company's future stock price performance and is not an investment recommendation or rating. ESGMeter is independent of the BofA Global Research fundamental equity analyst's investment rating, volatility risk rating, income rating or price objective for that company.
