

Si-Bone

Another beatable initial guide sets stage for 2024

Reiterate Rating: BUY | PO: 26.00 USD | Price: 20.54 USD

31% revenue growth in 2023; expect a strong 2024

Q4 revenue of $38.9m (+22% y/y, +14% q/q) was above its preannounced range ($38.5-38.7m). On a full year basis, Si-Bone (SIBN) revenue grew 31% well above its 17-19% initial growth guide with substantial operating leverage (opex growth only 4%). Underlying metrics were strong in 2023 – revenue per territory was $1.6m (+39% y/y), active surgeons of 1,130 (+22% y/y), procedure volume (+35% y/y). SIBN guided 2024 revenue to $162-165m (vs Street's $162m) which represents 17-19% y/y growth. Similar to last year, we think product launches/extensions and strong underlying momentum sets the stage for revenue upside throughout the year. We raise our 2024/2025 revenue estimates to $164/$192m from $163/$191m. We reiterate our Buy.

New allograft should complement current SI joint portfolio

SIBN launched a new bone allograft product (iFuse INTRA) for primary SI joint fusion earlier this year. INTRA gives the company greater access to interventional spine specialists who typically perform the allograft procedures. SIBN has historically been underrepresented with these docs. INTRA also provided SIBN earlier access to patients in the SI joint continuum of care which should make the patient referral pathway easier, something that SIBN has worked on for many years.

2024 rev growth guide (17-19%) inline; Q1 slightly below

SIBN's 2024 revenue guidance is $162-165m (+17-19%). US revenue growth is expected to be 18-20% and OUS growth will be low to mid-single digits. TORQ approval in EMEA is likely to come in early 2025 given the regulatory process. SIBN expects Q1 rev to be down 6-7% q/q in line with historical seasonality, implying $36.1-36.5m (vs Street's $37.1m). Revenue per procedure is expected to be down low to mid-single digits in 2024 from site of service and procedure mix. GM is expected to be 78%. Opex should grow 9%, still delivering operating leverage but not as strong as 2023.

EBITDA breakeven within striking distance

Q4 EBITDA loss was $3m, adjusting for a $1.7m inventory write down during the quarter, the smallest loss in recent years for the company. In 2024, we model a decreasing EBITDA loss through the first three quarters but flipping to positive $1.4m of EBITDA in Q4. For full year 2024, we model -$7m of EBITDA, but model +$3m in 2025. Cash used in the quarter was only $800k and the cash balance was $166m.

Company Sector

Medical Technology

Company Description

SIBN is a spine-focused medical device company that develops minimally invasive surgical implants to treat sacroiliac joint dysfunction that causes lower back pain. The company's primary product, the iFuse, consists of a triangular titanium implant which is inserted to fuse the Si joint to reduce Si joint dysfunction/pain oftentimes associated with physical movement.

Investment Rationale

We believe SIBN has the right tools to develop iFuse as the standard of care for treating Si joint pain and turn this into a large market opportunity. Many commercial payers have designated their coverage as exclusive to iFuse, suggesting that Si-Bone has a very proprietary technology backed by strong clinical evidence.

Price objective basis & risk

Si-Bone (SIBN)

Our $26 PO is based on a 5x EV/2025E sales multiple which is slightly above the historical average multiple for SMID cap medtech of 1-7x EV/Sales. We believe a slight premium to SMID cap medtech peers' average is appropriate given SIBN's revenue momentum, increasing operating leverage and lower risk to its TAM from GLP-1s.

Downside risks to our PO are slowing SI joint fusion market development, increased competition, reimbursement changes or pricing headwinds. Upside risk is faster than expected adoption of recent product launches, strategic activity and faster move towards profitability.

FUNDAMENTAL EQUITY OPINION KEY: Opinions include a Volatility Risk Rating, an Investment Rating and an Income Rating. VOLATILITY RISK RATINGS, indicators of potential price fluctuation, are: A - Low, B - Medium and C - High. INVESTMENT RATINGS reflect the analyst's assessment of both a stock's absolute total return potential as well as its attractiveness for investment relative to other stocks within its Coverage Cluster (defined below). Our investment ratings are: 1 - Buy stocks are expected to have a total return of at least 10% and are the most attractive stocks in the coverage cluster; 2 - Neutral stocks are expected to remain flat or increase in value and are less attractive than Buy rated stocks and 3 - Underperform stocks are the least attractive stocks in a coverage cluster. An investment rating of 6 (No Rating) indicates that a stock is no longer trading on the basis of fundamentals. Analysts assign investment ratings considering, among other things, the 0-12 month total return expectation for a stock and the firm's guidelines for ratings dispersions (shown in the table below). The current price objective for a stock should be referenced to better understand the total return expectation at any given time. The price objective reflects the analyst's view of the potential price appreciation (depreciation).

Investment rating	Total return expectation (within 12-month period of date of initial rating)	Ratings dispersion guidelines for coverage cluster ^{R2}
Buy	≥ 10%	≤ 70%
Neutral	≥ 0%	≤ 30%
Underperform	N/A	≥ 20%

^{R2} Ratings dispersions may vary from time to time where BofA Global Research believes it better reflects the investment prospects of stocks in a Coverage Cluster.

INCOME RATINGS, indicators of potential cash dividends, are: 7 - same/higher (dividend considered to be secure), 8 - same/lower (dividend not considered to be secure) and 9 - pays no cash dividend. Coverage Cluster is comprised of stocks covered by a single analyst or two or more analysts sharing a common industry, sector, region or other classification(s). A stock's coverage cluster is included in the most recent BofA Global Research report referencing the stock.

This report may contain a short-term trading idea or recommendation, which highlights a specific near-term catalyst or event impacting the issuer or the market that is anticipated to have a short-term price impact on the equity securities of the issuer. Short-term trading ideas and recommendations are different from and do not affect a stock's fundamental equity rating, which reflects both a longer term total return expectation and attractiveness for investment relative to other stocks within its Coverage Cluster. Short-term trading ideas and recommendations may be more or less positive than a stock's fundamental equity rating.

BoFA Securities is aware that the implementation of the ideas expressed in this report may depend upon an investor's ability to "short" securities or other financial instruments and that such action may be limited by regulations prohibiting or restricting "shortselling" in many jurisdictions. Investors are urged to seek advice regarding the applicability of such regulations prior to executing any short idea contained in this report.

Foreign currency rates of exchange may adversely affect the value, price or income of any security or financial instrument mentioned herein. Investors in such securities and instruments, including ADRs, effectively assume currency risk.

BoFA ESGMeter Methodology:

ESGMeter is a proprietary metric based on quantitative analysis and fundamental analyst inputs that reflects our assessment of a company's Environmental, Social and Governance-related attributes. The ESGMeter is intended to indicate a company's likelihood of experiencing stronger financial stability (higher return on equity and lower earnings and price volatility) over the next three years relative to peer group. There are three ESGMeter levels - Low, Medium, and High - which indicate whether a company has attributes most likely to translate into superior financial stability (in the case of a High level) or weaker financial stability (in the case of a Low level) over the next three years relative to its peer group. A Medium level suggests that a company exhibits ESG characteristics that are likely associated with financial stability results in line with its peer group over the next three years. Full details of our methodology, financial stability definition and disclaimers are available at BoFA ESGMeter methodology. ESGMeter is not indicative of a company's future stock price performance and is not an investment recommendation or rating.

ESGMeter is independent of the BoFA Global Research fundamental equity analyst's investment rating, volatility risk rating, income rating or price objective for that company.
