

Citigroup Inc.

2024 Year Ahead: Rubber meets the road

Maintain Rating: BUY | PO: 60.00 USD | Price: 53.64 USD

Self-help, regulatory relief and reflation to drive stock

We believe that Citigroup-C shares offer among the most compelling risk/reward in the large-cap banks space; outline three drivers for stock outperformance: 1) self-help kicking-in with expense actions; potential increase in share buybacks during 2H24; 2) regulatory relief on Basel III Endgame proposal that should further boost buyback potential while easing the path for mgmt. to achieve its profitability targets; and 3) improving sentiment towards bank stocks on rising probability for a soft-landing. Maintain Buy rating and $60 PO.

Stock adequately discounting execution risk

We believe that the Street will receive ample proof over the next twelve months on whether CEO Jane Fraser's turnaround efforts will translate into better returns (ROTCE) and a potentially less accident-prone Citigroup. At 0.6x P/TBV (vs. 10%+ ROTCE target) and 9x P/E (offers 4% dividend yield) vs. 11x peer median the stock is more than adequately discounting execution risk, thereby limiting downside risk.

Strategic actions a departure from the past

Despite the investor skepticism, we believe that changes instituted by Ms. Fraser (international consumer exits, organizational simplification, exiting lower return businesses, external hires) are a significant departure from anything that had been attempted under prior CEOs over the last two decades. These actions should lead to a simpler and easier to manage Citigroup. Better clarity on competitive positioning of its five businesses should increase investor confidence in assigning a higher P/E to stock.

4Q23 results could serve as a positive catalyst

We see 4Q23 results (Jan 12) as a potential catalyst for the stock. The Street should receive visibility on the expense trajectory, exiting 2024. Additionally, clarity on revenue base also needed as investors discount the impact from business exits (such as muni underwriting, distressed-debt business), foreign divestitures and the headwind from lower interest rates. Clarity on these combined with the potential for a pick-up in share buybacks in 2H24 could narrow the valuation gap relative to the $87 TBV per share.

Price objective basis & risk

Citigroup Inc. (C)

Our $60 PO is based on a 50%/50% weighting between our 2024e EPS and 2024e TBV. We assign 7.3x/0.8x multiples respectively, vs. large-cap peers (9.5x/1.4x) due to the bank's lower return metrics and risks to EPS defensibility.

Downside risks to our PO are execution risk tied to mgmt's franchise transformation efforts, an economic downturn or a macro-economic shock, increased costs tied to the regulatory consent orders, regulatory changes. Faster pace of share buybacks, better than expected operating leverage.

FUNDAMENTAL EQUITY OPINION KEY: Opinions include a Volatility Risk Rating, an Investment Rating and an Income Rating. VOLATILITY RISK RATINGS, indicators of potential price fluctuation, are: A - Low, B - Medium and C - High. INVESTMENT RATINGS reflect the analyst's assessment of both a stock's absolute total return potential as well as its attractiveness for investment relative to other stocks within its Coverage Cluster (defined below). Our investment ratings are: 1 - Buy stocks are expected to have a total return of at least 10% and are the most attractive stocks in the coverage cluster; 2 - Neutral stocks are expected to remain flat or increase in value and are less attractive than Buy rated stocks and 3 - Underperform stocks are the least attractive stocks in a coverage cluster. An investment rating of 6 (No Rating) indicates that a stock is no longer trading on the basis of fundamentals. Analysts assign investment ratings considering, among other things, the 0-12 month total return expectation for a stock and the firm's guidelines for ratings dispersions (shown in the table below). The current price objective for a stock should be referenced to better understand the total return expectation at any given time. The price objective reflects the analyst's view of the potential price appreciation (depreciation).

| Investment rating | Total return expectation (within 12-month period of date of initial rating) | Ratings dispersion guidelines for coverage cluster ^{R2} |
|-------------------|---|--|
| Buy | ≥ 10% | ≤ 70% |
| Neutral | ≥ 0% | ≤ 30% |
| Underperform | N/A | ≥ 20% |

^{R2} Ratings dispersions may vary from time to time where BofA Global Research believes it better reflects the investment prospects of stocks in a Coverage Cluster.

INCOME RATINGS, indicators of potential cash dividends, are: 7 - same/higher (dividend considered to be secure), 8 - same/lower (dividend not considered to be secure) and 9 - pays no cash dividend. Coverage Cluster is comprised of stocks covered by a single analyst or two or more analysts sharing a common industry, sector, region or other classification(s). A stock's coverage cluster is included in the most recent BofA Global Research report referencing the stock.

BofA ESGMeter Methodology:

ESGMeter is a proprietary metric based on quantitative analysis and fundamental analyst inputs that reflects our assessment of a company's Environmental, Social and Governance-related attributes. The ESGMeter is intended to indicate a company's likelihood of experiencing stronger financial stability (higher return on equity and lower earnings and price volatility) over the next three years relative to peer group. There are three ESGMeter levels - Low, Medium, and High - which indicate whether a company has attributes most likely to translate into superior financial stability (in the case of a High level) or weaker financial stability (in the case of a Low level) over the next three years relative to its peer group. A Medium level suggests that a company exhibits ESG characteristics that are likely associated with financial stability results in line with its peer group over the next three years. Full details of our methodology, financial stability definition and disclaimers are available at BofA ESGMeter methodology. ESGMeter is not indicative of a company's future stock price performance and is not an investment recommendation or rating. ESGMeter is independent of the BofA Global Research fundamental equity analyst's investment rating, volatility risk rating, income rating or price objective for that company.
