

Genmab

Key takes from CEO sell-side

Maintain Rating: BUY | PO: 2,540 DKK | Price: 1,989 DKK

In focus: M&A, Hexabody CD38 and GEN1046

We provide some quick takes from Genmab's (GMAB) investor meeting: 1) Our greatest focus was further colour on business development intent, given the pivot towards later-stage development/commercial deals. Genmab clarified therapy area focus as 80% focussed on cancer, with a focus on antibody-based approaches. There is also some focus on I&I areas with peak sales in the c$500m range that are likely too small for big-cap pharma. Genmab noted it had added BD management capability with numerous external hires; 2) Genmab was very vocal that pivot towards M&A had no read into its confidence in Hexabody CD38, where it remains convinced in clinical profile, but decision is with JNJ. Genmab discussed potential for MRD negativity to be used as potential surrogate endpoint for 1L studies and cited potential interest in CD38 being a "Front-runner" programme; 3) Genmab repeated comments from the FY call on GEN1046. GEN1046 to come at conference 1H24 data (early look abstract, as well as longer follow-up). Single PIII start in 2024, though details being finalised with regulators.

Pipeline progress needed vs Darzalex patent debate

We forecast Darzalex loss of royalty from FY29, important given it is c50% of revenues prior to LOE and obviously a larger EBIT contributor. Pipeline progress through FY24 is imperative to build confidence in growth post Darzalex LOE with focus on two assets in particular. Upcoming data (1) CD38 Hexabody; and 2) 41BB assets makes GMAB a "binary" call in FY24 and each asset briefly discussed below. We maintain our Buy for pipeline optionality from Cd38 and GEN1046

CD38 and GEN1046 in greatest focus; Neither slam dunk

1) Genmab presented dose-expansion data at ASH. GMAB previously provided high-level comments on data noting: a) encouraging efficacy, with >VGPR c40% for CD38 (4 out 11 pts) vs Darzalex prior mid-teens (COLUMBA data); b) On safety, noted 2 grade 5 events not deemed treatment related by DSMB; and 2) On GEN1046, GMAB has final PII data (2L lung) in house and plans to discuss path forward with regulators.

Company Sector

Pharmaceuticals

Company Description

Genmab is a Danish antibody company that uses its proprietary technology to generate fully human antibodies to disease targets provided by its collaborators. The company receives royalties on Arzerra (ofatumumab, anti-CD-20). Its most exciting asset is Darzalex, anti-CD-38 for multiple myeloma (MM). Darzalex is launched in relapsed MM and is also in the pipeline for earlier lines of therapy and solid tumours. Genmab has a number of partnerships with large biotech/big cap pharma.

Investment Rationale

Our Buy rating is driven by valuation upside potential and mid-term pipeline upside potential.

Genmab (GNMSF / GMAB)

Our DKK2540 PO (ADR: US$37) is DCF-based given expected earnings volatility over the coming years driven by lumpy milestone payments. Assumptions: 1) a discount rate of 8.5% given the focus on lower-risk antibodies and significant portion of the pipeline partnered with big caps: 2) a terminal growth rate of 3%: 3) Individual assets valued based on a sum-of-the-parts.

Upside risks to our PO are increased sales from key assets, increased penetration of biologics, pipeline success (focus on epcoritamab).

Downside risks to our PO are Darzalex commercial execution, clinical trial failure, failure of management to deliver additional partnership deals/progress assets through the pipeline, risk of litigation, adverse currency moves.

For purposes of this Investment Rating Distribution, the coverage universe includes only stocks. A stock rated Neutral is included as a Hold, and a stock rated Underperform is included as a Sell.

FUNDAMENTAL EQUITY OPINION KEY: Opinions include a Volatility Risk Rating, an Investment Rating and an Income Rating. VOLATILITY RISK RATINGS, indicators of potential price fluctuation, are: A - Low, B - Medium and C - High. INVESTMENT RATINGS reflect the analyst's assessment of both a stock's absolute total return potential as well as its attractiveness for investment relative to other stocks within its Coverage Cluster (defined below). Our investment ratings are: 1 - Buy stocks are expected to have a total return of at least 10% and are the most attractive stocks in the coverage cluster; 2 - Neutral stocks are expected to remain flat or increase in value and are less attractive than Buy rated stocks and 3 - Underperform stocks are the least attractive stocks in a coverage cluster. An investment rating of 6 (No Rating) indicates that a stock is no longer trading on the basis of fundamentals. Analysts assign investment ratings considering, among other things, the 0-12 month total return expectation for a stock and the firm's guidelines for ratings dispersions (shown in the table below). The current price objective for a stock should be referenced to better understand the total return expectation at any given time. The price objective reflects the analyst's view of the potential price appreciation (depreciation).

Investment rating	Total return expectation (within 12-month period of date of initial rating)	Ratings dispersion guidelines for coverage cluster ^{R2}
Buy	≥ 10%	≤ 70%
Neutral	≥ 0%	≤ 30%
Underperform	N/A	≥ 20%

^{R2}Ratings dispersions may vary from time to time where BofA Global Research believes it better reflects the investment prospects of stocks in a Coverage Cluster.

INCOME RATINGS, indicators of potential cash dividends, are: 7 - same/higher (dividend considered to be secure), 8 - same/lower (dividend not considered to be secure) and 9 - pays no cash dividend. Coverage Cluster is comprised of stocks covered by a single analyst or two or more analysts sharing a common industry, sector, region or other classification(s). A stock's coverage cluster is included in the most recent BofA Global Research report referencing the stock.

BofA ESGMeter Methodology:

ESGMeter is a proprietary metric based on quantitative analysis and fundamental analyst inputs that reflects our assessment of a company's Environmental, Social and Governance-related attributes. The ESGMeter is intended to indicate a company's likelihood of experiencing stronger financial stability (higher return on equity and lower earnings and price volatility) over the next three years relative to peer group. There are three ESGMeter levels - Low, Medium, and High - which indicate whether a company has attributes most likely to translate into superior financial stability (in the case of a High level) or weaker financial stability (in the case of a Low level) over the next three years relative to its peer group. A Medium level suggests that a company exhibits ESG characteristics that are likely associated with financial stability results in line with its peer group over the next three years. Full details of our methodology, financial stability definition and disclaimers are available at BofA ESGMeter methodology. ESGMeter is not indicative of a company's future stock price performance and is not an investment recommendation or rating. ESGMeter is independent of the BofA Global Research fundamental equity analyst's investment rating, volatility risk rating, income rating or price objective for that company.
