Not only Snowball, check out every snowflake when market slumps

Industry Overview

Snowball is one of the reasons

Snowball products, which are put options with knock-out/in structure that were sold to A-share investors in the past few years, were attributed to be the key reasons of the recent market slump. We agree that Snowball knock-in leads to A-share futures position changes, but based on its size at ~3% of A-share market cap and the indirect impact on the cash equity market, we believe Snowball is only one of the multiple reasons of the drop and impacts more on sentiment in the domestic market which is already weak. Based on our estimates, ~30% of Snowball products have triggered knock-in already and if CSI500/1000 drops another 6-7%, another round of major knock-in, which could be the last round, will come.

Check out every other snowflake to understand market

Besides Snowball, we also checked out other A-share market indicators and most of them were weak.

- Turnover: recent A-share daily turnover dropped to RMB600-700bn, lower than the average at RMB907bn in 2023, reflecting weak participation of retail investors.
- Margin financing: margin financing balance dropped by 2.5% in Jan, and the activity ratio dropped to 6-7%, below the normal level at 8-9%.
- Overseas fund outflow: the number of shares held by northbound investors dropped by 10% from the peak in early Aug 2023 to the year end. The size further dropped by 2.1% month-to-date. If excluding the impact of the inflow through one domestic broker, the adjusted decline was at 3%, based on our calculation.

Watch the strategy of the National Team

The National Team, or China government-controlled funds, is the key to watch when retail, mutual funds and overseas funds inflow mute. In 2015-16, China spent >RMB1tn to support the market and the surging purchase of A-share index ETFs last week, up from RMB6bn a week before to RMB23bn, showed that the government was trying to stabilize the market. However, we think investors should not be overly excited and need to watch 3 things: size, stocks and sustainability. Bloomberg reported today that the potential size could be RMB2tn and mainly from offshore accounts of SOEs. We doubt if the size is accurate or the government is decisive enough to mobilize such a big amount for now. In the previous purchase, the National Team focused mainly on large cap SOE stocks which could stabilize CSI300 and A50 indices, but not Snowball-linked CSI500/1000. It will be a difficult choice for the government to make and investors should keep watching the flow. And in 2015-16, it took 6mths for the government to eventually stabilize the market. The market should not expect the move of the National team to be effective immediately.

Disclosures

Important Disclosures

FUNDAMENTAL EQUITY OPINION KEY: Opinions include a Volatility Risk Rating, an Investment Rating and an Income Rating. VOLATILITY RISK RATINGS, indicators of potential price fluctuation, are: A - Low, B - Medium and C - High. INVESTMENT RATINGS reflect the analyst's assessment of both a stock's absolute total return potential as well as its attractiveness for investment relative to other stocks within its Coverage Cluster (defined below). Our investment ratings are: 1 - Buy stocks are expected to have a total return of at least 10% and are the most attractive stocks in the coverage cluster; 2 - Neutral stocks are expected to remain flat or increase in value and are less attractive than Buy rated stocks and 3 - Underperform stocks are the least attractive stocks in a coverage cluster. An investment rating of 6 (No Rating) indicates that a stock is no longer trading on the basis of fundamentals. Analysts assign investment ratings considering, among other things, the 0-12 month total return expectation for a stock and the firm's guidelines for ratings dispersions (shown in the table below). The current price objective for a stock should be referenced to better understand the total return expectation at any given time. The price objective reflects the analyst's view of the potential price appreciation (depreciation).

Investment rating	Total return expectation (within 12-month period of date of initial rating)	Ratings dispersion guidelines for coverage cluster <sup>R1</sup>
Buy	≥ 10%	≤ 70%
Neutral	≥ 0%	≤ 30%
Underperform	N/A	≥ 20%

<sup>R1</sup> Ratings dispersions may vary from time to time where BofA Global Research believes it better reflects the investment prospects of stocks in a Coverage Cluster.

INCOME RATINGS, indicators of potential cash dividends, are: 7 - same/higher (dividend considered to be secure), 8 - same/lower (dividend not considered to be secure) and 9 - pays no cash dividend. Coverage Cluster is comprised of stocks covered by a single analyst or two or more analysts sharing a common industry, sector, region or other classification(s). A stock's coverage cluster is included in the most recent BofA Global Research report referencing the stock.

BofA Global Research personnel (including the analyst(s) responsible for this report) receive compensation based upon, among other factors, the overall profitability of Bank of America Corporation, including profits derived from investment banking. The analyst(s) responsible for this report may also receive compensation based upon, among other factors, the overall profitability of the Bank's sales and trading businesses relating to the class of securities or financial instruments for which such analyst is responsible.
