

Chubb Ltd

Lower cat losses and higher favorable loss reserve development in 4Q23

Reiterate Rating: UNDERPERFORM | PO: 236.00 USD | Price: 243.17 USD

Chubb reports 4Q23 op. EPS of $8.30

The headline EPS includes a $2.76/sh one-time benefit from a change in Bermuda tax policy. Excluding this non-recurring item, adj. op. EPS of $5.54 compares vs our forecast of $4.93 and Consensus of $5.10. The largest components of the beat were higher net reserve releases (+$0.31/sh), lower catastrophe losses (+$0.29/sh), and a better core loss ratio (+$0.21/sh) in Global Property & Casualty. While favorable loss development overall exceeded our forecast, it was partly offset by a larger-than-expected charge in Corporate ($146mn vs est. $110mn) likely for run-off items. Weaker underwriting results in the Agriculture and Life Insurance segments partly offset the favorable results elsewhere. Share repurchases of $720mn exceeded our forecast of $550mn.

Top line growth slows in North America Commercial

Net premiums written (NPW) grew +4.4% in North America Commercial, a sharp deceleration vs 8.7% in 3Q23 and 10.5% in 2Q23. Management indicates that reunderwriting actions in large-case liability lines weighed on segment NPW growth by 3%. In the context of widespread concerns regarding casualty loss cost trends, these actions are less surprising. However, the magnitude of the deceleration is likely to catch some investors off guard, particularly considering ongoing rate increases in most lines. The company expects stronger growth to resume in 1Q24E. Management typically gives detailed loss cost trend and rate commentary on the earnings call; we expect casualty trends to be under heightened scrutiny with this quarter's results.

Global P&C core loss ratio contributes to beat

The Global P&C underlying loss ratio of 54.7% beat our forecast by 100bps. The North America Commercial segment was the largest contributor, with a core loss ratio of 58.6% vs our est. 60.5%. We have modestly decreased our core loss ratio for this segment moving forward, expecting the 4Q23 underwriting actions to be a net benefit margins, though we are still giving some weight to the full-year result.

Price objective to $236

Our EPS forecasts modestly net rise on a better core loss ratio and reserve development. We increase our PO to $236 from $210, reflecting the year-ahead peer group P/E ratio (10.7x vs prior 10x) on our higher 2025E EPS forecast. Downside vs our PO underlies our Underperform recommendation.

Company Sector

Insurance - Non-Life

Company Description

Swiss-domiciled Chubb provides diverse insurance/reinsurance to clients globally, focusing on specialty businesses, large accounts, property and liability-related lines. Business mix is dominated by insurance. International exposure (about 33% of premiums come from outside the US) provides long-term growth potential. Chubb has a major presence in the US, Europe, Asia and Bermuda. Chubb also writes accident and health and life insurance.

Investment Rationale

We believe Chubb's low underwriting leverage and already best-in-class underwriting margins make it a less of a candidate for material margin expansion as COVID19 losses and the headwinds of a potentially shrinking premium base due to recessionary trends abate. The company's international exposure could lead it to have higher legal costs and complicating exposures related to COVID19. In the face of lower interest rates, Chubb may find it more difficult to match historical returns.

Price objective basis & risk

Chubb Ltd (CB)

We arrive at a price objective of $236 based on a 10.7x 2025E P/E on our corresponding EPS forecast, which is in line with large-cap commercial lines peers, reflecting the historical trading range.

Upside risk is posed by a material improvement in underwriting margins. The company has been experiencing meaningful price increases in 2020, but these have not translated into meaningfully improving margins so far. Downside risk is presented by the pressure from lower interest rates causing a decline in earnings power and potentially leading the company to miss our EPS expectations. The volatility associated with catastrophes also creates risk of missing or exceeding our EPS outlook. Likewise, reserve adequacy is a bi-directional risk to our price objective.

FUNDAMENTAL EQUITY OPINION KEY: Opinions include a Volatility Risk Rating, an Investment Rating and an Income Rating. VOLATILITY RISK RATINGS, indicators of potential price fluctuation, are: A - Low, B - Medium and C - High. INVESTMENT RATINGS reflect the analyst's assessment of both a stock's absolute total return potential as well as its attractiveness for investment relative to other stocks within its Coverage Cluster (defined below). Our investment ratings are: 1 - Buy stocks are expected to have a total return of at least 10% and are the most attractive stocks in the coverage cluster; 2 - Neutral stocks are expected to remain flat or increase in value and are less attractive than Buy rated stocks and 3 - Underperform stocks are the least attractive stocks in a coverage cluster. Analysts assign investment ratings considering, among other things, the 0-12 month total return expectation for a stock and the firm's guidelines for ratings dispersions (shown in the table below). The current price objective for a stock should be referenced to better understand the total return expectation at any given time. The price objective reflects the analyst's view of the potential price appreciation (depreciation).

This report may contain a short-term trading idea or recommendation, which highlights a specific near-term catalyst or event impacting the issuer or the market that is anticipated to have a short-term price impact on the equity securities of the issuer. Short-term trading ideas and recommendations may be more or less positive than a stock's fundamental equity rating.

BofA Securities is aware that the implementation of the ideas expressed in this report may depend upon an investor's ability to "short" securities or other financial instruments and that such action may be limited by regulations prohibiting or restricting "shortselling" in many jurisdictions. BofA ESGMeter Methodology:

ESGMeter is a proprietary metric based on quantitative analysis and fundamental analyst inputs that reflects our assessment of a company's Environmental, Social and Governance-related attributes. The ESGMeter is intended to indicate a company's likelihood of experiencing stronger financial stability (higher return on equity and lower earnings and price volatility) over the next three years relative to peer group. There are three ESGMeter levels - Low, Medium, and High - which indicate whether a company has attributes most likely to translate into superior financial stability (in the case of a High level) or weaker financial stability (in the case of a Low level) over the next three years relative to its peer group. A Medium level suggests that a company exhibits ESG characteristics that are likely associated with financial stability results in line with its peer group over the next three years. Full details of our methodology, financial stability definition and disclaimers are available at BofA ESGMeter methodology. ESGMeter is not indicative of a company's future stock price performance and is not an investment recommendation or rating.

ESGMeter is independent of the BofA Global Research fundamental equity analyst's investment rating, volatility risk rating, income rating or price objective for that company.
