

Fox Corporation

Executing near term and keeping strategic optionality

Reiterate Rating: NEUTRAL | PO: 38.00 USD | Price: 30.67 USD

F2Q preview: More of the same

We forecast Fox's F2Q24E will largely reflect a continuation of recent trends. The advertising market remains challenging, highlighted by continued softness in direct response (DR) and Y/Y declines in entertainment ratings. Encouragingly, DR will start facing easier comps after FY2Q, which should help buoy results in the 2H. Key revenue drivers include: (1) Cable revenue growth of -1% (vs -3% prev) as lower affiliate revenue is offset by higher Other revenue; and (2) at Television, we forecast a -14% decline (vs. -13% previously), reflecting continuation of the challenging advertising environment.

Keeping it close to the vest

Despite press reports regarding M&A within media, Fox has been noticeably absent from any of the potential combinations. We believe Fox is in an enviable position given its collection of live content, which is a must-have sports/news assets. In addition, they have optionality given their strong balance sheet (<1x Net Debt:EBITDA by the end of FY24). In our view, Fox management continually evaluates their options given the challenging linear ecosystem and the lack of a current major streaming platform. Fox is one of the few companies that can either get much bigger given their balance sheet or sell in several bite-size pieces.

Raise F2Q estimates but keep FY24 OBIDA unchanged

We raise F2Q OIBDA/EPS to $290mn/$0.12 from $195mn/-$0.02 to account for higher Other revenue in Cable Networks and lower expenses relative to our prior estimates. We maintain our F2Q revenue unchanged as higher Other revenue is offset by modestly lower Cable affiliate and TV advertising. However, for FY24 we modestly lower our revenue forecast to $14.20bn (from $14.25bn) while keeping our OIBDA/EPS forecast of $2.77bn/$3.07 unchanged.

Reiterate Neutral rating and $38 PO

Fox appears attractive trading <6x our CY24 EV/EBITDA, below other M&E peers (e.g. DIS (Disney) at \sim 11x, PARA (Paramount) \sim 8x), and we believe valuation should provide downside protection to shares. Fox also has the least exposure to entertainment advertising given its asset mix, which is biased towards sports and news. Conversely, we anticipate Fox will face challenging Y/Y comparisons in FY24. We project Fox will return to earnings growth in FY25. Reiterate Neutral and $38 PO.

Company Sector

Cable TV

Company Description

Fox Corporation is a new entity comprised of the former 21st Century Fox's Television (TV) assets (i.e. the FOX Broadcast Network and 28 owned and operated TV Stations) and select Cable Network assets (i.e. Fox News, Fox Business, Fox Sports and the Big Ten Network),

Investment Rationale

FOX has strong fundamentals driven by: (1) proven brands, (2) concentration in durable live news/sports content, (3) strong subscription revenues (50% of total and growing double digits), (4) healthy OIBDA margins, (5) significant FCF generation (roughly 70% OIBDA conversion) and (6) healthy balance sheet deleveraging. However, we struggle to find near-term catalyst to drive share price above current levels.

Short-term trading ideas and recommendations are different from and do not affect a stock's fundamental equity rating, which reflects both a longer term total return expectation and attractiveness for investment relative to other stocks within its Coverage Cluster. Short-term trading ideas and recommendations may be more or less positive than a stock's fundamental equity rating.

BofA Securities is aware that the implementation of the ideas expressed in this report may depend upon an investor's ability to "short" securities or other financial instruments and that such action may be limited by regulations prohibiting or restricting "shortselling" in many jurisdictions. Investors are urged to seek advice regarding the applicability of such regulations prior to executing any short idea contained in this report.

Foreign currency rates of exchange may adversely affect the value, price or income of any security or financial instrument mentioned herein. Investors in such securities and instruments, including ADRs, effectively assume currency risk.

BofAS or one of its affiliates is a regular issuer of traded financial instruments linked to securities that may have been recommended in this report. BofA ESGMeter Methodology:

ESGMeter is a proprietary metric based on quantitative analysis and fundamental analyst inputs that reflects our assessment of a company's Environmental, Social and Governance-related attributes. The ESGMeter is intended to indicate a company's likelihood of experiencing stronger financial stability (higher return on equity and lower earnings and price volatility) over the next three years relative to peer group. There are three ESGMeter levels - Low, Medium, and High - which indicate whether a company has attributes most likely to translate into superior financial stability (in the case of a High level) or weaker financial stability (in the case of a Low level) over the next three years relative to its peer group. A Medium level suggests that a company exhibits ESG characteristics that are likely associated with financial stability results in line with its peer group over the next three years. Full details of our methodology, financial stability definition and disclaimers are available at BofA ESGMeter methodology. ESGMeter is not indicative of a company's future stock price performance and is not an investment recommendation or rating. ESGMeter is independent of the BofA Global Research fundamental equity analyst's investment rating, volatility risk rating, income rating or price objective for that company.
