4Q results ahead of Street; Comp sales (6.2%)

Lowe's (LOW) reported 4Q23 EPS of $1.77 on a same-store sales (comp) decline of (6.2%) y/y, which compares to consensus of $1.68 and (6.9%), respectively. Comps were negatively impacted by continued DIY demand pressure (vs. Pro ~flat) and unfavorable weather. Operating Margin declined 48bps y/y to 9.1%, including a 7bps increase in Gross Margin (GM) reflecting PPI initiatives, mix, and lower transportation costs partially offset by supply chain investments. SG&A as a % of sales increased 5bps y/y as sales volume de-leverage offset PPI initiatives.

Lower F25/C24 ests on lower sales forecast

We lower our F25/C24E EPS estimate to $12.20 (was $13.72) primarily driven by a reduction to our comp forecast to (2.4%) from flat previously. We expect DIY demand to remain under pressure in 2024, particularly in 1H. However we expect comps to improve through the year and inflect positively in 4Q driven by easing comparisons. We also expect modest GM improvements and PPI initiatives to be more than offset by expense de-leverage.

2H24 comps should improve even if macro remains soft

LOW's 2024 comp guide of (2%) to (3%) does not assume any improvement in underlying macro / DIY trends through the year, with expected 2H improvement supported fully by easier comparisons. This is consistent with our Homebuilders and Building Products team's expectation for a return to growth in repair & remodel trends in 2025 (see report: When will repair & remodel inflect?). However, an earlier recovery would support earnings upside for LOW as we expect 10bps of margin expansion for every 1% of incremental comp sales above the high end of the company's guide.

Improving macro indicators support outlook; Buy

While the macro remains choppy, LT drivers of home improvement demand remain supportive and we see signs of improvement from trough levels (see LOW Bull/Bear report). Further, we expect LOW to realize market share gain opportunities in Pro & DIY supported by its Total Home Strategy as well as margin support from PPI initiatives. Our PO moves to $280 (was $289), based on 21x (unchanged) our F26/C25E (was F25/C24E) EPS estimate of $13.50.

Company Sector

Retailing-Hardlines

Company Description

Founded in 1946, Lowe's Companies (LOW) is a leading home improvement retailer with over 1,700 stores in the US. The company is focusing investments on Pro-focused initiatives, technology, and omnichannel capabilities, in addition to improving its retail store productivity.

Investment Rationale

We believe a healthy consumer backdrop (and particularly strong homeowner balance sheets) will provide support to LOW in the medium term, particularly as it continues to see the benefits of its restructuring initiatives over time. We believe LOW's profitability will also continue to improve and its comp & margin gap with HD will continue to narrow as it gains traction with Pros.

Price objective basis & risk

Lowe's Companies, Inc. (LOW)

Our PO of $280 is based on around 21x our 2025 EPS estimate. We believe a multiple above the hardlines average (20x) is warranted given solid fundamentals and the relatively defensive nature of the home improvement industry, countered by near-term economic and sentiment risk. In addition, LOW has an opportunity to expand margins for several years through continued productivity improvements and product differentiation.

Upside risks to our PO are improving consumer sentiment and other macro metrics tied to renovation spending, better-than-expected margin expansion from sales growth coupled with cost-saving and productivity initiatives, and upside from favorable weather events. Downside risks to our PO are rising interest rates which may continue to dampen investor sentiment towards housing, a slower than expected improvement in comps, and slower than anticipated progress towards margin improvement goals.

FUNDAMENTAL EQUITY OPINION KEY: Opinions include a Volatility Risk Rating, an Investment Rating and an Income Rating. VOLATILITY RISK RATINGS, indicators of potential price fluctuation, are: A - Low, B - Medium and C - High. INVESTMENT RATINGS reflect the analyst's assessment of both a stock's absolute total return potential as well as its attractiveness for investment relative to other stocks within its Coverage Cluster (defined below). Our investment ratings are: 1 - Buy stocks are expected to have a total return of at least 10% and are the most attractive stocks in the coverage cluster; 2 - Neutral stocks are expected to remain flat or increase in value and are less attractive than Buy rated stocks and 3 - Underperform stocks are the least attractive stocks in a coverage cluster. An investment rating of 6 (No Rating) indicates that a stock is no longer trading on the basis of fundamentals. Analysts assign investment ratings considering, among other things, the 0-12 month total return expectation for a stock and the firm's guidelines for ratings dispersions (shown in the table below). The current price objective for a stock should be referenced to better understand the total return expectation at any given time. The price objective reflects the analyst's view of the potential price appreciation (depreciation).

Investment rating Total return expectation (within 12-month period of date of initial rating) Ratings dispersion guidelines for coverage cluster^{R2}

Buy	≥ 10%	≤ 70%
Neutral	≥ 0%	≤ 30%
Inderperform	N/A	≥ 20%

R2Ratings dispersions may vary from time to time where BofA Global Research believes it better reflects the investment prospects of stocks in a Coverage Cluster.

INCOME RATINGS, indicators of potential cash dividends, are: 7 - same/higher (dividend considered to be secure), 8 - same/lower (dividend not considered to be secure) and 9 - pays no cash dividend. Coverage Cluster is comprised of stocks covered by a single analyst or two or more analysts sharing a common industry, sector, region or other classification(s). A stock's coverage cluster is included in the most recent BofA Global Research report referencing the stock.

BofA ESGMeter Methodology:

ESGMeter is a proprietary metric based on quantitative analysis and fundamental analyst inputs that reflects our assessment of a company's Environmental, Social and Governance-related attributes. The ESGMeter is intended to indicate a company's likelihood of experiencing stronger financial stability (higher return on equity and lower earnings and price volatility) over the next three years relative to peer group. There are three ESGMeter levels - Low, Medium, and High - which indicate whether a company has attributes most likely to translate into superior financial stability (in the case of a High level) or weaker financial stability (in the case of a Low level) over the next three years relative to its peer group. A Medium level suggests that a company exhibits ESG characteristics that are likely associated with financial stability results in line with its peer group over the next three years. Full details of our methodology, financial stability definition and disclaimers are available at BGMeter methodology. ESGMeter is not indicative of a company's future stock price performance and is not an investment recommendation or rating. ESGMeter is independent of the BofA Global Research fundamental equity analyst's investment rating, volatility risk rating, income rating or price objective for that company.
