Reserve strengthening in General Liability; 2024E combined ratio outlook 95.5%

Reiterate Rating: UNDERPERFORM | PO: 101.00 USD | Price: 104.86 USD

Selective reports op. EPS of $1.94

This compares vs our prior forecast of $1.95 and consensus of $1.96. A slightly higher combined ratio drove the miss, with net reserve strengthening (-$0.21/sh) offsetting beats in the expense ratio (+$0.09/sh) and catastrophe losses (+$0.08/sh). The core underlying loss ratio of 58.9% was effectively in line with our forecast, with favorable results in Excess & Surplus (E&S) offsetting continued pressure in Standard Personal lines. Consolidated renewal rate accelerated to +7.4% vs +7.0% in 3Q23, driven by Standard Commercial and Personal lines.

Sizeable reserve charge in general liability

The company reported net unfavorable reserve development of $10mn vs our forecast for favorable $6mn, with Standard Commercial and Personal lines each contributing $5mn. In Standard Commercial, the company recorded a $55mn charge for general liability related to accident years 2015-2020, partly offset by $50mn in workers' comp reserve releases. This charge contrasts with a consistent history of net favorable development in Standard Commercial. Industrywide concerns have arisen regarding casualty reserves for AYs 2015-19 in recent quarters; however, a) the materiality of the charge and b) the inclusion of AY20, when pandemic measures partly suppressed claims activity, likely catch investors off guard. We only modestly lower our forecast for reserve releases, still expecting a slight net benefit to the combined ratio going forward; however, we note downside risk to our forecasts if 4Q23 challenges persist.

2024E combined ratio outlook 95.5%

The company projects a 2024E combined ratio of 95.5% (excl. any reserve development) compared to the long-run target of 95%. This includes a catastrophe load of 5.0% vs prior 4.5%. We forecast 95.4% excl. reserve development vs prior 95.2%, with higher cat losses and attritional losses in Personal lines partly offset by a better outlook in E&S.

Price objective to $101

Our EPS forecasts net fall predominantly due to higher cat losses and a slower return to target profitability in Personal lines. Our price objective falls to $101 from $103 based on 110% the peer group P/E ratio (10x) on our lower EPS forecast. We reduce the relative valuation to 110% from prior 120%, reflecting the longer-term trading range. We expect the recently extended premium to dissipate under the weight of 4Q23 reserving actions. Downside vs our PO underlies our Underperform rating.

Company Sector

Insurance - Non-Life

Company Description

Selective is a super regional P&C insurer that offers both commercial (about 90% of insurance premiums) and personal lines products. SIGI relies on independent agents as its sole distribution force. SIGI is well-positioned in the independent agent market, with an aim to drive growth via a) targeted geographical expansion, b) increased agency appointments, and c) increased agency wallet share.

Investment Rationale

We believe SIGI deserves to trade at a premium to the P&C group due to a) its higher investment and operating leverage, b) its partial insulation to challenging commercial lines trends, and c) its higher return profile. That said, we believe the current premium valuation overly reflects these advantages and should prove difficult to sustain over the longer term. Downside vs our PO underlies our Underperform rating.

Price objective basis & risk

Selective (SIGI)

Our price objective of $101 reflects 110% of the 2025E peer group P/E multiple (10x) applied to our corresponding EPS forecast. This reflects the historical trading range. The stock has historically commanded a premium given its higher return profile.

Bi-directional risks to our PO are the magnitude of catastrophic losses, prior year reserve development, investment yield trajectory, P&C (property and casualty) pricing trajectory, and changes in loss cost trends. An increase in capital returns to shareholders could also present upside risk.

FUNDAMENTAL EQUITY OPINION KEY: Opinions include a Volatility Risk Rating, an Investment Rating and an Income Rating. VOLATILITY RISK RATINGS, indicators of potential price fluctuation, are: A - Low, B - Medium and C - High. INVESTMENT RATINGS reflect the analyst's assessment of both a stock's absolute total return potential as well as its attractiveness for investment relative to other stocks within its Coverage Cluster (defined below). Our investment ratings are: 1 - Buy stocks are expected to have a total return of at least 10% and are the most attractive stocks in the coverage cluster; 2 - Neutral stocks are expected to remain flat or increase in value and are less attractive than Buy rated stocks and 3 - Underperform stocks are the least attractive stocks in a coverage cluster. An investment rating of 6 (No Rating) indicates that a stock is no longer trading on the basis of fundamentals. Analysts assign investment ratings considering, among other things, the 0-12 month total return expectation for a stock and the firm's guidelines for ratings dispersions (shown in the table below). The current price objective for a stock should be referenced to better understand the total return expectation at any given time. The price objective reflects the analyst's view of the potential price appreciation (depreciation).

Investment rating Total return expectation (within 12-month period of date of initial rating) Ratings dispersion guidelines for coverage cluster^{R2}

Buy	≥ 10%	≤ /0%
Neutral	≥ 0%	≤ 30%
Underperform	N/A	≥ 20%

R2Ratings dispersions may vary from time to time where BofA Global Research believes it better reflects the investment prospects of stocks in a Coverage Cluster.

INCOME RATINGS, indicators of potential cash dividends, are: 7 - same/higher (dividend considered to be secure), 8 - same/lower (dividend not considered to be secure) and 9 - pays no cash dividend. Coverage Cluster is comprised of stocks covered by a single analyst or two or more analysts sharing a common industry, sector, region or other classification(s). A stock's coverage cluster is included in the most recent BofA Global Research report referencing the stock.

BofA ESGMeter Methodology:

ESGMeter is a proprietary metric based on quantitative analysis and fundamental analyst inputs that reflects our assessment of a company's Environmental, Social and Governance-related attributes. The ESGMeter is intended to indicate a company's likelihood of experiencing stronger financial stability (higher return on equity and lower earnings and price volatility) over the next three years relative to peer group. There are three ESGMeter levels - Low, Medium, and High - which indicate whether a company has attributes most likely to translate into superior financial stability (in the case of a High level) or weaker financial stability (in the case of a Low level) over the next three years relative to its peer group. A Medium level suggests that a company exhibits ESG characteristics that are likely associated with financial stability results in line with its peer group over the next three years. Full details of our methodology, financial stability definition and disclaimers are available at BofA ESGMeter methodology. ESGMeter is not indicative of a company's future stock price performance and is not an investment recommendation or rating. ESGMeter is independent of the BofA Global Research fundamental equity analyst's investment rating, volatility risk rating, income rating or price objective for that company.
