

Super Micro Computer Inc.

Well positioned in a growing AI server market

Reiterate Rating: BUY | PO: 1,280.00 USD | Price: 1,163.00 USD

Competitive advantages remain intact

Based on our semiconductor analyst team's revised outlook for accelerator TAM, we have revised higher our expectation for artificial intelligence (AI) server industry growth. We now expect industry revenues to grow from about $39bn to about $200bn between 2023-2027 (see our March 13 industry note). SMCI's competitive advantages include building block architecture which helps to quickly incorporate new technology and reduce time to market, relationship with leading AI CPU/GPU/ASIC providers including Intel, Nvidia, and AMD, and its ability to customize configurations to specific customer applications and its liquid cooling offerings. Reiterate Buy.

Convertible debt - cash for working capital, expansion

On Feb 23rd SMCI priced convertible senior notes due 2029 to institutional buyers. SMCI's primary cash needs have been for increasing working capital to support strong revenue growth. Cash is also needed for financing real property acquisitions. The convertible notes do not bear regular interest. SMCI was able to raise cash for working capital and business expansion, without increasing its annual interest expense related to the offering. We expect SMCI to continue to see strong revenue growth given server demand from applications including Artificial Intelligence (AI), High Performance Computing (HPC), big data analytics, engineering/technical workloads, streaming and content delivery, and compute-intensive graphics and online gaming.

Risk factors to keep in mind

Downside risk factors are availability of GPUs what can limit revenue growth, price pressure from operating in a competitive market, gross margin drifting lower to support revenue growth and share gains, and higher valuation. If growth fails to materialize, or if Super Micro mis-executes then the trading multiple could re-rate lower as growth is a primary driver of the earnings multiple.

Raise PO to $1,280 (from $1,040)

Our rev and EPS ests are meaningfully above Street ests, and we leave those unchanged. Our F25E rev/EPS are $25.2bn/$35.66. Our F26E rev/EPS are $30.6bn/$44.67. We raise our PO to $1,280 (from $1,040) on 26x our C26E EPS of $49.24 (prior 26x our C25E EPS). SMCI is putting in capacity to support future revenue growth and we see C26 as more representative of the company's medium-term earnings power.

Company Description

Super Micro is a silicon-valley based provider of accelerated, high-performance & high-efficiency server and storage systems for a variety of markets including enterprise data centers, cloud computing, artificial intelligence ("AI"), 5G and edge computing. The company reports revenues under two categories:Server & Storage systems, and Subsystems & Accessories. Majority of its fixed assets are in the U.S. In F23, 68% of its revenue was from the U.S., 15% from Asia, and 14% from Europe.

Investment Rationale

Our Buy rating is based on Super Micro's strategic position in the growing Al server market and its competitive advantage in being able to customize designs and be an early launch partner for companies releasing CPUs and GPU accelerators. Our estimates are meaningfully above Street and we expect positive estimate revisions as we see continued revenue growth and share gains for the company.

Price objective basis & risk

Super Micro Computer Inc. (SMCI)

Our PO of $1,280 is based on 26x our C26E EPS estimate of $49.24. Our target multiple compares to the median 9x of historical range 6x-32x. In our opinion, a multiple at the high end of the range is warranted given strong, above market revenue growth, competitive advantage with its building block architecture which affords quick time-to-market, and anticipated share gain in a server market that is growing much faster than historical rate driven by the need for accelerated compute power to handle Al driven workloads. We see growth continuing over multiple years.

Downside risk factors are price pressure from operating in a competitive market, gross margins have drifted lower over the past several quarters, and we expect margins to remain towards the lower end of target range (14-17%) in order to support revenue growth and share gain. Availability of GPUs can limit revenue growth. Super Micro's trading multiple has re-rated much higher so far in 2024.

Upside risk factors are the AI server market being much larger than current expectations (hard to size as it is an emerging growth market), unexpected share gains, and competitive wins as new accelerator platforms are released over the next several years.

FUNDAMENTAL EQUITY OPINION KEY: Opinions include a Volatility Risk Rating, an Investment Rating and an Income Rating. VOLATILITY RISK RATINGS, indicators of potential price fluctuation, are: A - Low, B - Medium and C - High. INVESTMENT RATINGS reflect the analyst's assessment of both a stock's absolute total return potential as well as its attractiveness for investment relative to other stocks within its Coverage Cluster (defined below). Our investment ratings are: 1 - Buy stocks are expected to have a total return of at least 10% and are the most attractive stocks in the coverage cluster; 2 - Neutral stocks are expected to remain flat or increase in value and are less attractive than Buy rated stocks and 3 - Underperform stocks are the least attractive stocks in a coverage cluster. Analysts assign investment ratings considering, among other things, the 0-12 month total return expectation for a stock and the firm's guidelines for ratings dispersions (shown in the table below). The current price objective for a stock should be referenced to better understand the total return expectation at any given time. The price objective reflects the analyst's view of the potential price appreciation (depreciation).

BofA ESGMeter Methodology:

ESGMeter is a proprietary metric based on quantitative analysis and fundamental analyst inputs that reflects our assessment of a company's Environmental, Social and Governance-related attributes. The ESGMeter is intended to indicate a company's likelihood of experiencing stronger financial stability (higher return on equity and lower earnings and price volatility) over the next three years relative to peer group. There are three ESGMeter levels - Low, Medium, and High - which indicate whether a company has attributes most likely to translate into superior financial stability (in the case of a High level) or weaker financial stability (in the case of a Low level) over the next three years relative to its peer group. A Medium level suggests that a company exhibits ESG characteristics that are likely associated with financial stability results in line with its peer group over the next three years. Full details of our methodology, financial stability definition and disclaimers are available at BofA ESGMeter methodology. ESGMeter is not indicative of a company's future stock price performance and is not an investment recommendation or rating. ESGMeter is independent of the BofA Global Research fundamental equity analyst's investment rating, volatility risk rating, income rating or price objective for that company.
