

Intapp Inc.

Investor day takeaways: Well positioned vertical share gainer; Reit Buy

Maintain Rating: BUY | PO: 51.00 USD | Price: 41.21 USD

Upbeat presentations, appears positioned to take share

Reiterate Buy and $51 PO, after attending Intapp's well attended inaugural investor day, where we come away more positive on its ability to take share in its target verticals. We heard many upbeat presentations where topics included: 1) end-market opportunity; 2) go-to-market strategy update; 3) leveraging AI to drive better customer experiences; 4) partner channel expansion plan; and 5) financial update. Bottom line: Intapp has executed well since its IPO, and we expect the good execution to continue in the future.

Key message: Becoming a vertical Al powerhouse...

...for the professional services and financial services end markets. Intapp is all-in with leveraging AI to drive better customer outcomes. Its branding message is now "Intelligence Applied" with the Al strategy around creating offerings that exhibit: 1) zero entry; 2) conversational; 3) summarization; 4) generation; and 5) recommendation. Intapp Assist, a new product SKU, was also launched today which should drive efficiencies around content generation and uncovering key stakeholder triggers to drive higher quality interactions and relationships. While we don't expect any meaningful contributions from Al in FY24/25, the new products should drive differentiation.

Acquiring delphai, expanding AI offerings

Ahead of the investor day, it announced it is acquiring delphai, an applied Al vendor that focuses on firmographic data automation, structuring, and intelligence. Delphai's proprietary AI enables efficient public data (websites, news, filings) synthesis, which can be combined with internal customer data sources to create a more accurate view of target customers. The addition of delphai should extend Intapp's technology differentiation and could drive higher monetization over time. The acquisition is expected to close in the next 60 days. We believe the acquisition should be a LT positive.

Establishes long-term targets, TAM expands to $31bn

LT targets include: 1) $1bn in total revs; 2) cloud as 90% of total ARR; 3) PF recurring rev gross margins of 88%; 3) PF gross margins of 80+; 4) PF op income of 25-30% (+300-500bps per year); and 5) FCF margin of 20-25%. While a timeframe to achieve the targets wasn't given, mgmt believes the pieces are in place to achieve it such as, landand-expand, expand partner ecosystem, and enter new geographies, to name a few. Lastly, with more products, the TAM is now $31bn, up 30% from the IPO ($24bn).

Company Sector

Server & Enterprise Software

Company Description

Intapp provides vertical software solutions for professional and financial services industry that drive digital transformation and good outcomes for its customers with its front-office and back-office application. Intapp's solutions enable its customers to operate more efficiently, and manage risks and compliance more effectively, among other things. Intapp provides cloud and on-promise solutions that are powered with an Al/ML engine.

Investment Rationale

We believe Intapp as the potential to disrupt and take share in its target professional/financial services verticals with its SaaS apps. Since its products are purpose built for its target verticals, we think the products are better positioned than horizontal applications and smaller vertical point application vendors. As such, we see Intapp driving strong SaaS revenue growth for the foreseeable future, which should result in the business becoming much larger and more profitable over time.

Price objective basis & risk

Intapp Inc. (INTA)

Our $51 PO is based on our SOTP (sum of the parts) valuation analysis: 10x EV/C24E SaaS revenues, above vertical software peers at 7x for faster cloud growth (35%+ vs mid-teens peers). The rest of revenues is at a 6.0x multiple, comparable to legacy onpremise vertical peers at 6x, given on-premise is not a focus vector. Our PO implies an 8.5x EV/C24E consolidated revenue multiple.

Downside risks to our PO are: 1) TAM penetration, 2) execution, 3) competition, 4) not currently profitable, and 5) enterprise application spending is highly cyclical.

BofA ESGMeter Methodology:

ESGMeter is a proprietary metric based on quantitative analysis and fundamental analyst inputs that reflects our assessment of a company's Environmental, Social and Governance-related attributes. The ESGMeter is intended to indicate a company's likelihood of experiencing stronger financial stability (higher return on equity and lower earnings and price volatility) over the next three years relative to peer group. There are three ESGMeter levels - Low, Medium, and High - which indicate whether a company has attributes most likely to translate into superior financial stability (in the case of a High level) or weaker financial stability (in the case of a Low level) over the next three years relative to its peer group. A Medium level suggests that a company exhibits ESG characteristics that are likely associated with financial stability results in line with its peer group over the next three years. Full details of our methodology, financial stability definition and disclaimers are available at BofA ESGMeter methodology. ESGMeter is not indicative of a company's future stock price performance and is not an investment recommendation or rating. ESGMeter is independent of the BofA Global Research fundamental equity analyst's investment rating, volatility risk rating, income rating or price objective for that company.
