

Enfusion, Inc.

Good 4Q results, look ahead to next week's investor day for growth & profits outlook

Reiterate Rating: UNDERPERFORM | PO: 9.00 USD | Price: 9.36 USD

Good 4Q, but sustained outperformance uncertain

Enfusion's 4Q23 results were good with revenue growth accelerating to 14.7% y/y (from +13.3% last quarter) and healthy bookings commentary, suggesting its go-to-market strategy is working and could result in business fundamentals improving further in the future. Furthermore, 2024 revenue guidance is above Street at the mid, and implied adj. EBITDA margin guidance of 21% is 300bps higher than the 18% for 2023, suggesting confidence in its ability to execute and an improving demand environment. While the 4Q23 results were good, we believe a couple more quarters of consistent results are likely needed to drive investor sentiment meaningfully higher from here. Reiterate Underperform but raise PO to $9 (from $8) now based on 5.4x EV/C24E revenue multiple (vs 4.9x prior) for 4Q23 performance and higher forecasts.

Next week's investor day is key

We anticipate discussions on its TAM, product roadmap, platform differentiation, go-to-market, and medium to long-term financial targets. While the 2024 guidance implies a rule-of-38 (17% y/y revenue growth + 21% adj. EBITDA margins), we believe a longer term view could be closer to rule-of-50 (20% rev growth + 30% adj. EBITDA margins) which is an attractive profile.

Pos: Strong bookings. Neg: NDR declined, remains volatile

Positive: Bookings were the highest in four quarters, with 65% coming from conversions, and commentary that pipeline quality is improving, which supports the potential for revenue upside in 2024. Negative: Net dollar retention (NDR) contracted 30bps q/q to 102.1%, after expanding by 70bps last quarter. Volatility in NDR could constrain investor sentiment. Furthermore, the "NDR ex-voluntary churn" metric will no longer be given, which is a positive over the long-term as it was somewhat confusing given it also gave a traditional NDR metric, but will take time to get used to.

$9 PO based on 5.4x EV/C24E revs, 0.3x EV/R/G

This compares to vertical software peers trading at 6.2x EV/CY24 revenue, or 0.4x EV/R/G. We use an EV/revenue/growth adjusted multiple that is a discount to its vertical software peers, which we believe is warranted given its sensitivity to market volatility.

Company Sector

Server & Enterprise Software

Company Description

Enfusion is a vertical software platform vendor that is focused on front, middle and back office workflows for the investment industry. Products include: accounting, portfolio management, order/execution management, and analytics, among others. The company was founded in 2006 and is based in Chicago, Illinois.

Investment Rationale

We rate ENFN U/P. ENFN has built an end-to-end platform that can drive front & back office efficiencies for its target investment management end-market. We believe as the investment industry continues to expand & digitize, Enfusion has potential to become the vertical sw category winner in the future and a more profitable business along the way. However, we see relatively few catalysts until several overhangs (e.g., exec transitions, ability to operate in prolonged volatility) are overcome.

Price objective basis & risk

Enfusion, Inc. (ENFN)

Our $9 PO is based on a 5.4x EV/C24E revenue multiple, representing a growth adjusted multiple of 0.3x (i.e., EV/R/G) which is lower than its vertical software peers at 0.4x (or 6.2x EV/revenue). We believe a discount EV/R/G multiple is warranted given Enfusion's relatively good growth profile balanced against execution risks given sensitivity to market volatility.

Upside risks to our PO: 1) revenue growth proves accelerates above 20%+, 2) customer retention proves healthy, 3) ability to drive strong new customer acquisition in a tough macro environment, 4) big new logo and conversion deals, and 5) company delivers a Rule of 40 (revenue growth + adjusted EBITDA profile) over the medium-term.

Downside risks to our PO: 1) revenue growth proves decelerates and stays below 10%, 2) customer churn increases, 3) new customer acquisition proves difficult in an improving macro environment, and 4) company struggles to get back a rule of 25 profile (revenue growth + adjusted EBITDA) over the medium-term.

FUNDAMENTAL EQUITY OPINION KEY: Opinions include a Volatility Risk Rating, an Investment Rating and an Income Rating. VOLATILITY RISK RATINGS, indicators of potential price fluctuation, are: A - Low, B - Medium and C - High. INVESTMENT RATINGS reflect the analyst's assessment of both a stock's absolute total return potential as well as its attractiveness for investment relative to other stocks within its Coverage Cluster (defined below). Our investment ratings are: 1 - Buy stocks are expected to have a total return of at least 10% and are the most attractive stocks in the coverage cluster; 2 - Neutral stocks are expected to remain flat or increase in value and are less attractive than Buy rated stocks and 3 - Underperform stocks are the least attractive stocks in a coverage cluster. An investment rating of 6 (No Rating) indicates that a stock is no longer trading on the basis of fundamentals. Analysts assign investment ratings considering, among other things, the 0-12 month total return expectation for a stock and the firm's guidelines for ratings dispersions (shown in the table below). The current price objective for a stock should be referenced to better understand the total return expectation at any given time. The price objective reflects the analyst's view of the potential price appreciation (depreciation).

| Buy | ≥ 10% | ≤ /0% |

This report may contain a short-term trading idea or recommendation, which highlights a specific near-term catalyst or event impacting the issuer or the market that is anticipated to have a short-term price impact on the equity securities of the issuer. Short-term trading ideas and recommendations may be more or less positive than a stock's fundamental equity rating.

BofA Securities is aware that the implementation of the ideas expressed in this report may depend upon an investor's ability to "short" securities or other financial instruments and that such action may be limited by regulations prohibiting or restricting "shortselling" in many jurisdictions. BofA ESGMeter Methodology:

ESGMeter is a proprietary metric based on quantitative analysis and fundamental analyst inputs that reflects our assessment of a company's Environmental, Social and Governance-related attributes. The ESGMeter is intended to indicate a company's likelihood of experiencing stronger financial stability (higher return on equity and lower earnings and price volatility) over the next three years relative to peer group. There are three ESGMeter levels - Low, Medium, and High - which indicate whether a company has attributes most likely to translate into superior financial stability (in the case of a High level) or weaker financial stability (in the case of a Low level) over the next three years relative to its peer group. A Medium level suggests that a company exhibits ESG characteristics that are likely associated with financial stability results in line with its peer group over the next three years. Full details of our methodology, financial stability definition and disclaimers are available at BofA ESGMeter methodology. ESGMeter is not indicative of a company's future stock price performance and is not an investment recommendation or rating. ESGMeter is independent of the BofA Global Research fundamental equity analyst's investment rating, volatility risk rating, income rating or price objective for that company.
