Holiday strong at Anthro and FP; new UO president could stabilize sales

Reiterate Rating: BUY | PO: 45.00 USD | Price: 35.90 USD

Reiterate Buy as Anthro and FP continue to outperform

We reiterate our Buy rating on URBN after a strong holiday, led by Anthropologie (Anthro) and Free People (FP). Holiday (Nov/Dec) sales were up 10% y/y. Retail sales were up 8%, driven by a 6% increase in comps. We are raising our F24/25E EPS by 5%/7% to $3.32/$3.53 to reflect the record holiday sales and further margin expansion potential. We are also raising our PO to $45, still 6x EV/EBITDA (in line with peer average) on higher estimates.

FP movement +45%, while Anthro maintains strength

We are encouraged by the continued strength at Anthro and FP, as Anthro comps increased 14% and FP comps surged 20% in the holiday period (FP movement comps rose 45%). UO comps decreased 13%, slightly above our -14% est for 4Q. UO cleared through excess inventory and will exit the quarter cleaner, setting up for a better flow of newness and lower markdowns in F25. Nuuly (clothing subscription service) net sales increased 71% during the holiday period driven by a 58% increase in subscriber base y/y.

GM improvement ahead of plan driven by IMU initiatives

We hosted investor meetings with Frank Conforti, COO and Melanie Marein-Efron, CFO at the ICR conference in Orlando. We are raising our gross margin (GM) forecast by 50bp to +390bp to reflect improved IMU from cross functional initiatives and continued benefit from lower freight. Cross functional initiatives include deeper fabric positioning, improved mode mix, 3D technology to send samples back digitally. We still see 100bp of additional IMU opportunities (1H25 weighted) and the potential for less markdown pressure at UO (2H25 weighted). In our model, this is modestly offset by SG&A deleverage, which will likely persist until UO stabilizes.

New head of UO North America to turn around brand

URBN also announced the much awaited appointment of its new UO brand North America head effective in Feb. Shea Jensen brings over 30 years of retail experience from Nordstrom and Good American. We expect Jensen's expertise in merchandising and innovation to lead the improvement in product offering and strengthening of marketing that is needed to turn UO.

Company Description

Urban Outfitters is a specialty retailer and wholesaler of unique private and third-party apparel, accessories and homegoods. It has three main concepts, Urban Outfitters, Anthropologie and Free People, as well as Terrain and BHLDN. We estimate that the company's store base is underpenetrated and has ample room to grow for the foreseeable future.

Investment Rationale

Urban is one of the most appealing growth stories in specialty retail, in our opinion. Its three proven concepts each have room for margin expansion and its products are differentiated and compelling. A recovery in sales productivity levels at key brands and improving operating margins provide earnings growth potential.

BofA GLOBAL RESEARCH

Price objective basis & risk

Urban Outfitters (URBN)

Our $45 price objective is based on 6x our F25 (C24) EV/EBITDA estimate. This is in line with the peer average and reflects its strategic positives (small store base, high ecommerce penetration, strong customer loyalty, clean balance sheet).

Downside risks to achieving our price objective are if comps decelerate, preventing gains in productivity and operating margins. The stock could surpass our price objective if comps rebound more quickly than expected in coming quarters.

INVESTMENT RATINGS reflect the analyst's assessment of both a stock's absolute total return potential as well as its attractiveness for investment relative to other stocks within its Coverage Cluster (defined below). Our investment ratings are: 1 - Buy stocks are expected to have a total return of at least 10% and are the most attractive stocks in the coverage cluster; 2 - Neutral stocks are expected to remain flat or increase in value and are less attractive than Buy rated stocks and 3 - Underperform stocks are the least attractive stocks in a coverage cluster. The current price objective for a stock should be referenced to better understand the total return expectation at any given time. The price objective reflects the analyst's view of the potential price appreciation (depreciation).

BofA ESGMeter Methodology:

ESGMeter is a proprietary metric based on quantitative analysis and fundamental analyst inputs that reflects our assessment of a company's Environmental, Social and Governance-related attributes. The ESGMeter is intended to indicate a company's likelihood of experiencing stronger financial stability (higher return on equity and lower earnings and price volatility) over the next three years relative to peer group. There are three ESGMeter levels - Low, Medium, and High - which indicate whether a company has attributes most likely to translate into superior financial stability (in the case of a High level) or weaker financial stability (in the case of a Low level) over the next three years relative to its peer group. A Medium level suggests that a company exhibits ESG characteristics that are likely associated with financial stability results in line with its peer group over the next three years. Full details of our methodology, financial stability definition and disclaimers are available at BofA ESGMeter methodology. ESGMeter is not indicative of a company's future stock price performance and is not an investment recommendation or rating. ESGMeter is independent of the BofA Global Research fundamental equity analyst's investment rating, volatility risk rating, income rating or price objective for that company.
