Solid Q4 overshadowed by 2025 margin concerns

Reiterate Rating: NEUTRAL | PO: 265.00 USD | Price: 237.70 USD

2023 ended well, but guide/comments raise questions

TFX Q4 revenue of $774m (+7% adjusted for Fx and selling days) beat the Street by 1%. EPS of $3.34 beat the Street by 4% on better-than-expected margins (OM 26.3% vs Street's 25.8%). Despite the solid Q4, the stock was down 5%, in our view on questions raised by the 2024 guide and management comments implying Street 2025 margin and EPS numbers are likely too high. This comes as the Street was already discounting TFX's 2025 long range plan (LRP) targets. We also think there are likely to be new questions about UroLift's US stabilization after comments on the Q4 call. We reiterate Neutral.

Lowering our 2025 margin and EPS numbers

Before today, the Street was modeling 2025 GM of 61% and OM of 28%. These consensus estimates were already 70bps and 100bps, respectively, below TFX's LRP. Mgmt comments today suggest prior estimates are likely too high. We now model 2025 OM of 27.2% (vs 27.9% before) which is only 90bps above TFX's 2022 OM (base year for LRP). Our 2025E EPS estimate is $15.06 down from $15.57 previously.

Is UroLift stabilizing in the US?

UroLift continues to struggle in the US office setting but is growing in the hospital setting per management. TFX expects Interventional Urology to grow 7.5% in 2024 which implies sales of $344m. If you back out $67m of Palette (TFX expects $66-68m), implied UroLift sales in 2024 are $277m. We assume UroLift sales in 2023 were $307m ($320m less $13m for Palette). By our math, the guide suggests that global UroLift will be down HSD/10% in 2024 which we believe raises question about US stabilization, especially when international sales contribution should be growing quarter over quarter.

2024 revenue growth guide misses; EPS guide inline

TFX's 2024 ex-Fx revenue guide of 3.75-4.75% was below the Street (~4.7%). Revenue growth faces a ~80 bps headwind (~100 bps incl Fx) from the roll off of $76m of revenue from the Medline manufacturing service agreement (MSA), partially offset by ~$55m of incremental sales from Palette. The 2024 EPS guide of $13.55-13.95 (flat to +3%) bracketed the Street but the midpoint ($13.75) was slightly below consensus ($13.80). TFX is absorbing $0.84 of EPS headwinds in 2024 – lost MSA revenue ($0.26), Palette dilution ($0.35) and a higher tax due to Pillar II ($0.23).

Company Sector

Medical Technology

Company Description

Teleflex is a global diversified medical device company that manufactures single-use devices for diagnostic and therapeutic procedures in critical care and surgical applications. TFX operates in seven segments - Vascular Access, Interventional, Anesthesia, Surgical, Interventional Urology, OEM and Other.

Investment Rationale

TFX is constantly evolving its business adding higher growth assets through acquisitions. We see top line growth accelerating towards the higher end of medtech as their high growth assets start to scale. TFX should be able to deliver consistent operating margin expansion on top of industry leading operating margins. Despite the positives, we do not see meaningful upside to our estimates. With valuation at the high end of medtech, the opportunity to see multiple expansion is likely limited.

Stock Data

Average Daily Volume 216,000

Quarterly Earnings Estimates

	2023	2024
Q1	3.09A	3.11E
Q2	3.41A	3.38E
Q3	3.64A	3.40E
04	3 38∆	3.88F

Price objective basis & risk

Teleflex Incorporated (TFX)

Our $265 PO is based on 17x our 2025 EPS estimate which is a 2x discount to the average of large cap medtech peers. We think a discounted multiple is appropriate given TFX's average MSD top line growth but limited margin expansion and EPS growth.

Upside Risks to our PO are 1) faster than expected UroLift growth, 2) meaningful easing of inflation pressure and 3) growth accretive M&A.

Downside Risks to our PO are 1) UroLift growth does not rebound as expected, 2) incremental inflation and/or supply chain challenges, 3) slower growth of high growth products and 4) additional procedure disruptions because of new Covid outbreaks

RI Issuers that were investment banking clients of BofA Securities or one of its affiliates within the past 12 months. For purposes of this Investment Rating Distribution, the coverage universe includes only stocks. A stock rated Neutral is included as a Hold, and a stock rated Underperform is included as a Sell.

FUNDAMENTAL EQUITY OPINION KEY: Opinions include a Volatility Risk Rating, an Investment Rating and an Income Rating. VOLATILITY RISK RATINGS, indicators of potential price fluctuation, are: A - Low, B - Medium and C - High. INVESTMENT RATINGS reflect the analyst's assessment of both a stock's absolute total return potential as well as its attractiveness for investment relative to other stocks within its Coverage Cluster (defined below). Our investment ratings are: 1 - Buy stocks are expected to have a total return of at least 10% and are the most attractive stocks in the coverage cluster; 2 - Neutral stocks are expected to remain flat or increase in value and are less attractive than Buy rated stocks and 3 - Underperform stocks are the least attractive stocks in a coverage cluster. An investment rating of 6 (No Rating) indicates that a stock is no longer trading on the basis of fundamentals. Analysts assign investment ratings considering, among other things, the 0-12 month total return expectation for a stock and the firm's guidelines for ratings dispersions (shown in the table below). The current price objective for a stock should be referenced to better understand the total return expectation at any given time. The price objective reflects the analyst's view of the potential price appreciation (depreciation).

Total return expectation (within 12-month period of date of initial Ratings dispersion guidelines for coverage cluster^{R2} Investment rating rating)

Buy	≥ 10%	≤ 70%
Neutral	≥ 0%	≤ 30%
nderperform	N/A	≥ 20%

R2Ratings dispersions may vary from time to time where BofA Global Research believes it better reflects the investment prospects of stocks in a Coverage Cluster.

INCOME RATINGS, indicators of potential cash dividends, are: 7 - same/higher (dividend considered to be secure), 8 - same/lower (dividend not considered to be secure) and 9 - pays no cash dividend. Coverage Cluster is comprised of stocks covered by a single analyst or two or more analysts sharing a common industry, sector, region or other classification(s). A stock's coverage cluster is included in the most recent BofA Global Research report referencing the stock.

BofA ESGMeter Methodology:

ESGMeter is a proprietary metric based on quantitative analysis and fundamental analyst inputs that reflects our assessment of a company's Environmental, Social and Governance-related attributes. The ESGMeter is intended to indicate a company's likelihood of experiencing stronger financial stability (higher return on equity and lower earnings and price volatility) over the next three years relative to peer group. There are three ESGMeter levels - Low, Medium, and High - which indicate whether a company has attributes most likely to translate into superior financial stability (in the case of a High level) or weaker financial stability (in the case of a Low level) over the next three years relative to its peer group. A Medium level suggests that a company exhibits ESG characteristics that are likely associated with financial stability results in line with its peer group over the next three years. Full details of our methodology, financial stability definition and disclaimers are available at BofA ESGMeter methodology. ESGMeter is not indicative of a company's future stock price performance and is not an investment recommendation or rating. ESGMeter is independent of the BofA Global Research fundamental equity analyst's investment rating, volatility risk rating, income rating or price objective for that company.
