A deep dive into land management business

Maintain Rating: BUY | PO: 31.00 BRL | Price: 17.89 BRL

Investing from the ground up

Cosan is a shareholder of one of the largest agriculture land management companies in Brazil (LandCo). Its partnership with Nuveen (a TIAA Company) controls over 200k hectares (he) and is valued at R$13.9bn, according to the latest 3rd party appraisal. Cosan has a 30% stake on the business and the division represents 5% of our R$31/share PO or 8% of Cosan's current market cap. We reiterate our Buy on Cosan on 1) solid balance sheet, helped by 2) declining interest rates, 3) potential value unlock from listing of subsidiaries and 4) new growth opportunities on Vale and the land business.

Governance of the land business is highly complex

Cosan invests in land management using a complex partnership with Nuveen. The main investment vehicles are Radar, Janus and Tellus. Cosan has an economic stake of 41% at Radar and 19.6% at Janus and Tellus. The last two vehicles have preferred shares and Cosan has more than 60% of the ordinary shares in both. Such structure was put in place since Nuveen invests in the country with different partners under three different funds (Mansilla, TCGA and TCGA II) that have different levels of exposure to countries/crops.

Exposure to Raízen is approximately 30% of LandCo

We estimate ~30% of the portfolio of Cosan being leased to Raízen, meaning that LandCo represents of 12% of Raízen's own cane fields. This relationship is key for Raízen to invest on the soil and improve yields over time.

LandCo and SLC have a cross dependency of at least 15%

SLC is the second main operator of LandCo' lands, running at least 34k he. This means that at least 15% of SLC's total leased area is owned by LandCo. On the LandCo side, SLC leases approximately 14.5% of the land bank and 35% of the grain area. The two companies converge in terms of strategy as SLC wants to grow in an asset light way and LandCo is looking for opportunities to generate value by partnering with good operators.

Company Description

Cosan is a conglomerate operating in several different stakes in businesses within the energy and infrastructure segments through: 1) Raizen, a JV with Shell that operates in upstream and downstream of the biofuel supply chain, 2) Compass, a natural gas player, 3) Moove, a lubricant business in BZ and US, 4) Rumo, a rail concessionaire, 5) Vale, a leading iron ore mining company, 6) Radar, a land management business, and 7) Ligga, a potential JV on iron ore

Investment Rationale

Cosan is a solid long-term holding. In the short term, the company should benefit from strong earnings growth at Raizen as well as from recovery at Comgas and Rumo. Going forward, the development of projects at Compass, Raizen and Rumo and investments through Cosan Investment could unlock value in the stock.

LandCo deep dive

LandCo is 5% of Cosan's price objective

Cosan and Nuveen's lands are valued at R$13.9bn, according to the latest  $3^{rd}$  party appraisal, in which Cosan has a 30% economic stake. We value the division at R$2.9bn or R$1.6/share at Cosan after the outstanding M&A payables of R$1bn. As such, the land business represents 5% of our R$31/share PO and 8% of the company's market cap.

In our recent survey with 18 investors, we found 70% of the investors assign value to the division. We understand this sample consists of investors that look at the company closely, so the number of investors that actually value the land business could be even lower than that.

Highly complex corporate governance

Cosan invests in land management using a complex partnership with Nuveen (a TIAA Company). The main investment vehicles are Radar, Janus and Tellus. Cosan has an economic stake of 41% in Radar and 19.6% in Janus and Tellus. The last two have preferred shares and Cosan has more than 60% of the ordinary shares in these companies.

The three investment vehicles are segregated as part of different funds managed by Nuveen: Mansilla, TCGA and TCGA II. Back in 2016, a filling by TIAA indicated its affiliated vehicles had 100% of Mansilla, 41% of TCGA and 11.7% of TCGA II.

Mansilla is the oldest with land fund in Brazil as it started to acquire land back in 2008. TCGA and TCGA II started running Brazilian operations in 2011 and 2014, respectively. The last land acquisition by any of the three funds took place in 2019. Today, Mansilla and TCGA II have a high exposure to sugarcane fields in Brazil, while TCGA is focused on grains.

Raízen and SLC are the main operators

We estimate ~30% of the portfolio of Cosan being leased to Raízen, meaning that LandCo represents of 12% of Raízen's own cane fields. This relationship is key for Raízen to invest on the soil and improve yields over time.

We estimate SLC is the second main operator of LandCo' lands, running at least 34k he that we were able to identify as overlapping area. This means that at least 15% of SLC's total leased area is owned by LandCo. On the LandCo side, SLC leases approximately 14.5% of the land bank and 35% of the grain area. The two companies converge in terms of strategy as SLC wants to grow in an asset light way and LandCo is looking for opportunities to generate value by partnering with good operators.

Exhibit 6: At least 15% of the leased area by SLC is controlled by Nuveen/Cosan

Price objective basis & risk

Cosan (CSAIF / CSAN)

Our PO is R$31/share ($26/ADR) is based on a sum-of-the-parts (SOTP) analysis. Our breakdown is 1) Raizen (R$14/share, 100% DCF with 50% NPV of E2G projects). We assume a moving WACC weighted by EBITDA share of each business every year. Our WACC for Sugar is 11.5% in nominal BRL terms, 10.6% for renewables, 10.6% for Mobility in Brazil, 11.2% for Projects, 31.6% for Mobility in Argentina. 2) Compass (R$12/share, 100% DCF based on FCFE with 14.4% Ke and 4% terminal growth rate (tgr) for Comgás, Sulgás, GasBraisliano, TRSP and the other distributors valued at EV/RAB of Comgás at a discount of 20% due to lower profitability), 3) Rumo (R$8/share, 57-year DCF (FCFE), lasts until the last concession (2079), with Ke of 13.3%, in BRL nominal terms), 4) Moove (R$4/share, 100% DCF, WACC of 11.6% with 4% terminal growth rate), 5) Cosan Inv (R$2/share, Invested value in acquisitions of land companies and Atlántico, 6) Vale (R$10/share, blended valuation excluding the additional debt raised to buy 4.9% stake in the company. We use a normalized hist average of 4.5x 2023E EV/EBITDA and our DCF at 12.3% WACC and tgr of 2.6%), and we exclude net debt (R$16/share) and corp expense (R$3/shr, 100% DCF of corp expense, WACC of 11.6% with 4% tgr).

Downside risks: 1) lower commodity prices 2) worse execution of Raizen's projects, 3) smaller-than-expected dividend payments from subsidiaries, 4) fiercer competitive environment in fuel distribution business and at Rumo, 5) execution problems at Rumo.

For purposes of this Investment Rating Distribution, the coverage universe includes only stocks. A stock rated Neutral is included as a Hold, and a stock rated Underperform is included as a Sell.

FUNDAMENTAL EQUITY OPINION KEY: Opinions include a Volatility Risk Rating, an Investment Rating and an Income Rating. VOLATILITY RISK RATINGS, indicators of potential price fluctuation, are: A - Low, B - Medium and C - High. INVESTMENT RATINGS reflect the analyst's assessment of both a stock's absolute total return potential as well as its attractiveness for investment relative to other stocks within its Coverage Cluster (defined below). Our investment ratings are: 1 - Buy stocks are expected to have a total return of at least 10% and are the most attractive stocks in the coverage cluster, 2 - Neutral stocks are expected to remain flat or increase in value and are less attractive than Buy rated stocks and 3 - Underperform stocks are the least attractive stocks in a coverage cluster. An investment rating of 6 (No Rating) indicates that a stock is no longer trading on the basis of fundamentals. Analysts assign investment ratings considering, among other things, the 0-12 month total return expectation for a stock and the firm's guidelines for ratings dispersions (shown in the table below). The current price objective for a stock should be referenced to better understand the total return expectation at any given time. The price objective reflects the analyst's view of the potential price appreciation (depreciation).

Taiwan Readers: Neither the information nor any opinion expressed herein constitutes an offer or a solicitation of an offer to transact in any securities or other financial instrument. No part of this report may be used or reproduced or quoted in any manner whatsoever in Taiwan by the press or any other person without the express written consent of BofA Securities. This document provides general information only, and has been prepared for, and is intended for general distribution to, BofA Securities clients. Neither the information nor any opinion expressed constitutes an offer or an invitation to make an offer, to buy or sell any securities or other financial instrument or any derivative related to such securities or instruments (e.g., options, futures, warrants, and contracts for differences). This document is not intended to provide personal investment advice and it does not take into account the specific investment objectives, financial situation and the particular needs of, and is not directed to, any specific person(s). This document and its content do not constitute, and should not be considered to constitute, investment advice for purposes of ERISA, the US tax code, the Investment Advisers Act or otherwise. Investors should seek financial advice regarding the appropriateness of investing in financial instruments and implementing investment strategies discussed or recommended in this document and should understand that statements regarding future prospects may not be realized. Any decision to purchase or subscribe for securities in any offering must be based solely on existing public information on such security or the information in the prospectus or other offering document issued in connection with such offering, and not on this document.

Securities and other financial instruments referred to herein, or recommended, offered or sold by BofA Securities, are not insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation and are not deposits or other obligations of any insured depository institution (including, Bank of America, N.A.). Investments in general and, derivatives, in particular, involve numerous risks, including, among others, market risk, counterparty default risk and liquidity risk. No security, financial instrument or derivative is suitable for all investors. Digital assets are extremely speculative, volatile and are largely unregulated. In some cases, securities and other financial instruments may be difficult to value or sell and reliable information about the value or risks related to the security or financial instrument may be difficult to obtain. Investors should note that income from such securities and other financial instruments, if any, may fluctuate and that price or value of such securities and instruments may rise or fall and, in some cases, investors may lose their entire principal investment. Past performance is not necessarily a guide to future performance. Levels and basis for taxation may change.

This report may contain a short-term trading idea or recommendation, which highlights a specific near-term catalyst or event impacting the issuer or the market that is anticipated to have a short-term price impact on the equity securities of the issuer. Short-term trading ideas and recommendations are different from and do not affect a stock's fundamental equity rating, which reflects both a longer term total return expectation and attractiveness for investment relative to other stocks within its Coverage Cluster. Short-term trading ideas and recommendations may be more or less positive than a stock's fundamental equity rating.

BofA Securities is aware that the implementation of the ideas expressed in this report may depend upon an investor's ability to "short" securities or other financial instruments and that such action may be limited by regulations prohibiting or restricting "shortselling" in many jurisdictions. Investors are urged to seek advice regarding the applicability of such regulations prior to executing any short idea contained in this report.

Foreign currency rates of exchange may adversely affect the value, price or income of any security or financial instrument mentioned herein. Investors in such securities and instruments, including ADRs, effectively assume currency risk.

BofAS or one of its affiliates is a regular issuer of traded financial instruments linked to securities that may have been recommended in this report. BofAS or one of its affiliates may, at any time, hold a trading position (long or short) in the securities and financial instruments discussed in this report.

BofA Securities, through business units other than BofA Global Research, may have issued and may in the future issue trading ideas or recommendations that are inconsistent with, and reach different conclusions from, the information presented herein. Such ideas or recommendations may reflect different time frames, assumptions, views and analytical methods of the persons who prepared them, and BofA Securities is under no obligation to ensure that such other trading ideas or recommendations are brought to the attention of any recipient of this information. In the event that the recipient received this information pursuant to a contract between the recipient and BofAS for the provision of research services for a separate fee, and in connection therewith BofAS may be deemed to be acting as an investment adviser, such status relates, if at all, solely to the person with whom BofAS has contracted directly and does not extend beyond the delivery of this report (unless otherwise agreed specifically in writing by BofAS). If such recipient uses the services of BofAS in connection with the sale or purchase of a security referred to herein, BofAS may act as principal for its own account or as agent for another person. BofAS is and continues to act solely as a broker-dealer in connection with the execution of any transactions, including transactions in any securities referred to herein.
