European OCTG: 2024 playbook – summary changes

Price Objective Change

Key takeaways

- Aramco's halt of its production capacity expansion has limited near-term implications for OCTG volumes and pricing.
- We tweak Tenaris' PO by -3% on lower perpetuity shipments. Our FY24 estimates remain unchanged.
- Reiterate Neutral on lack of near-term buyback catalyst, coupled with high expectations for DPS growth.

Tweak PO to reflect slightly lower perpetuity volumes

Yesterday's Aramco announcement to halt its oil MSC expansion underlines our conviction that only Oil Service companies which adopt 'value over volume' strategies will outperform. We believe the MSC 'halt' should have limited near-term impact on Int'l volumes and pricing, and as such, leave 2024 forecasts unchanged at TEN. We lower our DCF-driven PO at TEN from US $40/EUR 18 to US $39/EUR 17.5 (-3%) – reflecting slightly lower long-term volume assumptions (-50KT).

Post-FID projects will continue

Whilst Safaniya (+700kb/d) is now likely to be deferred, the development of the Dammam (2024 and 2027), Berri (2025), Marjan (2025), Zuluf (2026) fields, will continue according to our MENA colleagues. As a result, they still expect Aramco's capex to peak in 2025, and thus spending growth is unlikely to deviate too much in 2024-25. Our US colleagues equally believe the 'halt' is likely less disruptive than it seems, and upstream capex i.e., OFS Middle East revenue will still move up higher-in 2024-25.

Aramco to maintain production capacity

Aramco announced yesterday receiving a directive from the Saudi Ministry of Energy to maintain its max sustainable capacity at 12mb/d and not increase it to 13mb/d, which was expected to be completed in 2027. Aramco is expected to provide updated capex guidance during its FY23 results in March. We continue to expect Aramco's capex peaking in 2025 given the continued development of already sanctioned projects.

Development of Aramco's sanctioned projects to continue

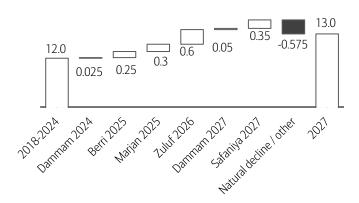

The development of the Dammam (2024 and 2027), Berri (2025), Marjan (2025), Zuluf (2026) fields, which have passed final investment decision already, will in our view continue. Through infill drilling, the company will control production capacity in each of these fields, which will help offset natural declines across other fields and eventually help the company maintain its production capacity of 12mb/d.

Safaniya key victim of deferrals

Safaniya (700kb/d capacity, world's largest offshore oil field) is the only large field of Aramco's expansion plan still awaiting sanction, which is now likely to be deferred because of the announcement. Upstream reported last week that Aramco had started tendering EPCI (Engineering, Procurement, Construction and Installation) contracts worth US$10bn for the project, while Woodmac has reported total capex of US$26bn.

Exhibit 1: Aramco's route to 13mb/d decomposed (mb/d)

Zuluf was expected to add 0.6 mb/d with the remaining from other fields

Summary changes

Tenaris - Neutral: PO US$39/EUR17.5

We maintain our Neutral rating on Tenaris. Our PO of EUR 17.5 (previously EUR 18) is derived from a discounted cash flow (DCF), where we use a 9.5% discount rate, before deducting financial net debt and other balance sheet provisions to arrive at our equity value (Exhibit 5). Mid-cycle, we now assume ~3.3 MT of tube shipments (previously ~3.4 MT), implying a capacity utilization rate of 43% (in-line with 10YA). We maintain our medium-term Tubes division ASP at USD 2,900/t.

2024 estimates remain unchanged; sit above consensus

We leave FY23 and FY24 estimates broadly unchanged (see Exhibit 6). We now model flat Int'l tubular ASPs 2024-25 (+1% previously) meaning that our EBITDA forecast is lowered by 2% in 2025.

Summary estimates versus consensus - we sit above:

Our financial estimates sit 5-10% above a thin consensus 2023-25e. However, our DPS estimates sit below. Our Tubes division ASPs are in-line, while our volume estimates are above.

Investment Rationale

Tenaris

We rate Tenaris Neutral. It remains a leader in its main markets and should deliver organically covered, sector-leading 9% cash returns 2024e whilst maintaining a strong balance sheet with net cash set to grow by c.$2bn YE23-25e.

Nonetheless, Tenaris is less-exposed Int'l market torque than Vallourec, and we see limited outperformance from further buyback upgrades 1H24 without a formal payout policy. Furthermore, consensus DPS expectations are high from 2024+.

Price objective basis & risk

Tenaris (TNRSF / TS)

Our PO of US$39/EUR 17.5 for Tenaris is based on our DCF valuation, which assumes a WACC of 9.5% and a perpetuity growth rate of 1.5%.

Upside risks to our PO include: (1) upside to our Tubes price forecast, (2) upside to Tubes volume forecast, (3) favourable exchange rate movements and (4) decreases in raw material costs.

Downside risks to our PO include: (1) downside to our Tubes price forecast, (2) downside to Tubes volume forecast, (3) unfavourable exchange rate movements, (4) increases in raw material costs and (5) global trade issues, including possible anti-dumping duties

R1 Issuers that were investment banking clients of BofA Securities or one of its affiliates within the past 12 months. For purposes of this Investment Rating Distribution, the coverage universe includes only stocks. A stock rated Neutral is included as a Hold, and a stock rated Underperform is included as a Sell.

FUNDAMENTAL EQUITY OPINION KEY: Opinions include a Volatility Risk Rating, an Investment Rating and an Income Rating. VOLATILITY RISK RATINGS, indicators of potential price fluctuation, are: A - Low, B - Medium and C - High. INVESTMENT RATINGS reflect the analyst's assessment of both a stock's absolute total return potential as well as its attractiveness for investment relative to other stocks within its Coverage Cluster (defined below). Our investment ratings are: 1 - Buy stocks are expected to have a total return of at least 10% and are the most attractive stocks in the coverage cluster; 2 - Neutral stocks are expected to remain flat or increase in value and are less attractive than Buy rated stocks and 3 - Underperform stocks are the least attractive stocks in a coverage cluster. An investment rating of 6 (No Rating) indicates that a stock is no longer trading on the basis of fundamentals. Analysts assign investment ratings considering, among other things, the 0-12 month total return expectation for a stock and the firm's guidelines for ratings dispersions (shown in the table below). The current price objective for a stock should be referenced to better understand the total return expectation at any given time. The price objective reflects the analyst's view of the potential price appreciation (depreciation).

Taiwan Readers: Neither the information nor any opinion expressed herein constitutes an offer or a solicitation of an offer to transact in any securities or other financial instrument. No part of this report may be used or reproduced or quoted in any manner whatsoever in Taiwan by the press or any other person without the express written consent of BofA Securities. This document provides general information only, and has been prepared for, and is intended for general distribution to, BofA Securities clients. Neither the information nor any opinion expressed constitutes an offer or an invitation to make an offer, to buy or sell any securities or other financial instrument or any derivative related to such securities or instruments (e.g., options, futures, warrants, and contracts for differences). This document is not intended to provide personal investment advice and it does not take into account the specific investment objectives, financial situation and the particular needs of, and is not directed to, any specific person(s). This document and its content do not constitute, and should not be considered to constitute investment advice for purposes of ERISA, the US tax code, the Investment Advisers Act or otherwise. Investors should seek financial advice regarding the appropriateness of investing in financial instruments and implementing investment strategies discussed or recommended in this document and should understand that statements regarding future prospects may not be realized. Any decision to purchase or subscribe for securities in any offering must be based solely on existing public information on such security or the information in the prospectus or other offering document issued in connection with such offering, and not on this document.

Securities and other financial instruments referred to herein, or recommended, offered or sold by BofA Securities, are not insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation and are not deposits or other obligations of any insured depository institution (including, Bank of America, N.A.). Investments in general and, derivatives, in particular, involve numerous risks, including, among others, market risk, counterparty default risk and liquidity risk. No security, financial instrument or derivative is suitable for all investors. Digital assets are extremely speculative, volatile and are largely unregulated. In some cases, securities and other financial instruments may be difficult to value or sell and reliable information about the value or risks related to the security or financial instrument may be difficult to obtain. Investors should note that income from such securities and other financial instruments, if any, may fluctuate and that price or value of such securities and instruments may rise or fall and, in some cases, investors may lose their entire principal investment. Past performance is not necessarily a guide to future performance. Levels and basis for taxation may change.

This report may contain a short-term trading idea or recommendation, which highlights a specific near-term catalyst or event impacting the issuer or the market that is anticipated to have a short-term price impact on the equity securities of the issuer. Short-term trading ideas and recommendations are different from and do not affect a stock's fundamental equity rating, which reflects both a longer term total return expectation and attractiveness for investment relative to other stocks within its Coverage Cluster. Short-term trading ideas and recommendations may be more or less positive than a stock's fundamental equity rating.

BofA Securities is aware that the implementation of the ideas expressed in this report may depend upon an investor's ability to "short" securities or other financial instruments and that such action may be limited by regulations prohibiting or restricting "shortselling" in many jurisdictions. Investors are urged to seek advice regarding the applicability of such regulations prior to executing any short idea contained in this report.

Foreign currency rates of exchange may adversely affect the value, price or income of any security or financial instrument mentioned herein. Investors in such securities and instruments, including ADRs, effectively assume currency risk.

BofAS or one of its affiliates is a regular issuer of traded financial instruments linked to securities that may have been recommended in this report. BofAS or one of its affiliates may, at any time, hold a trading position (long or short) in the securities and financial instruments discussed in this report.

BofA Securities, through business units other than BofA Global Research, may have issued and may in the future issue trading ideas or recommendations that are inconsistent with, and reach different conclusions from, the information presented herein. Such ideas or recommendations may reflect different time frames, assumptions, views and analytical methods of the persons who prepared them, and BofA Securities is under no obligation to ensure that such other trading ideas or recommendations are brought to the attention of any recipient of this information. In the event that the recipient received this information pursuant to a contract between the recipient and BofAS for the provision of research services for a separate fee, and in connection therewith BofAS may be deemed to be acting as an investment adviser, such status relates, if at all, solely to the person with whom BofAS has contracted directly and does not extend beyond the delivery of this report (unless otherwise agreed specifically in writing by BofAS). If such recipient uses the services of BofAS in connection with the sale or purchase of a security referred to herein, BofAS may act as principal for its own account or as agent for another person. BofAS is and continues to act solely as a broker-dealer in connection with the execution of any transactions, including transactions in any securities referred to herein.

BofA ESGMeter Methodology:

ESGMeter is a proprietary metric based on quantitative analysis and fundamental analyst inputs that reflects our assessment of a company's Environmental, Social and Governance-related attributes. The ESGMeter is intended to indicate a company's likelihood of experiencing stronger financial stability (higher return on equity and lower earnings and price volatility) over the next three years relative to peer group. There are three ESGMeter levels - Low, Medium, and High - which indicate whether a company has attributes most likely to translate into superior financial stability (in the case of a High level) or weaker financial stability (in the case of a Low level) over the next three years relative to its peer group. A Medium level suggests that a company exhibits ESG characteristics that are likely associated with financial stability results in line with its peer group over the next three years. Full details of our methodology, financial stability definition and disclaimers are available at BofA ESGMeter methodology. ESGMeter is not indicative of a company's future stock price performance and is not an investment recommendation or rating. ESGMeter is independent of the BofA Global Research fundamental equity analyst's investment rating, volatility risk rating, income rating or price objective for that company.
